To Fight Transit District In Courts Still Undecided

No decision has been reached on whether or not the Contra Costa Transit Council will file court action seeking the exclusion of Contra Costa from the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. Harry Morrison, chairman of the citizens group, stated that the attorneys who had volunteered their services to study the legality of the district which was voted into existence in last year's general elections, had not decided on what grounds to attack the district.

THE LAWYERS were to present a definite recommendation by Tuesday night's meeting of the steering committee but, at the meeting they stated that they were as yet undecided as to what course to take in the matter.

Attorneys conducting the study are George Gordon, Dean Ormsby, Francis Watson and Robert Condon.

At the next meeting of the transit council, to be held Tuesday, Morrison will report on his efforts to obtain a special survey to determine what transit facilities are needed by the residents of Contra Costa.

"IN OUR OPINION the two county district was formed for one purpose — to transport Contra Costans to Alameda County. We are not opposed to mass transportation but are afraid that the inclusion of Contra Costa in the two county district may jeopardize the realization of true rapid transit which we recommend," Morrison explained.

While the transit council was shaping up its opposition to the two county district, the board of directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District junked their plans for purchase of the Sacramento-Northern tracks and right of way.

The plan of the board was to purchase the track and right of way from 40th and Shafter in Oakland to west Lafayette and lease the remainder of the track from Western Pacific from Lafayette to Concord or Pittsburg.

THE RAIL from Oakland to Lafayette is to be abandoned and removed by September and the Western Pacific is under a $100,000 bond to complete the work.

According to reports received by The Sun, some of the overhead wiring is all ready being removed along the rail system.

The Contra Costa Commuters Association Board of Directors voted that the Sacramento-Northern system be used for commute purposes.

The State Division of Highways attacked the plan to use the right of way and track since its thinking on road construction in Contra Costa and Alameda county had been predicated on the fact that the system would be abandoned and dedicated to the state for highway right of way.

Proponents Rally To Aid Bay Area Rapid Transit

Proponents of a nine-county rapid transit plan are banding toegther in San Francisco and Bay Area Counties to dispel opposition to the multi-million dollar transit system.

At a public meeting in San Francisco yesterday proposals were hurled from the floor to the board on how to overcome rapidly blooming objections.

The penninsula cities are opposing the rapid transit system on the basis they have the Southern Pacific Commute trains and are satisfied with it.

THE BERKELEY faction led by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce has passed resolutions that it seeks an underground system and not an overhead or surface system as proposed by the engineering firm which furnished the $750,000 initial study.

The rapid transit program was compared to the building of the Bay bridges. "There was much opposition to those programs also, many stated they were not needed but look at what we have today," one participant in the discussion said.

The main objections to the transit proposal, as presented by the San Mateo County group, relate to broad taxing powers, one-cent sales tax authorization and bond vote provisions.

WILLIAM J. Wilkin, consultant to the Senate Interim Committee on Bay Area Rapid Transit said in a prepared statement to the Mortgage Bankers Association of Northern California at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel in San Francisco:

"It is my belief that a bill will be passed by the Legislature at this session which will finalize the seven years and $750,000 worth of effort which has gone into the rapid transit project.

"It may not be the bill which automatically establishes the district.

"It may not be legislation which specifies any particular method of taxation.

"IT MAY CONTAIN additional restrictive and even constrictive measures to satisfy the apprehensions of various local government officials.

"But it will, I believe, give life — at last — to an actual integrated Bay Area rapid transit district."

The Contra Costa Transit Council Tuesday voted approval of the rapid transit plan "in principle," but authorized Harry Morrison, executive director of the Contra Costa Taxpayers Association and temporary chairman of the Transit Council, to file four objections at the hearings.

Supervisors OK Dow Chemical New Facilities

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved rezoning 30 acres in Ygnacio Valley for the location of a "research facility" of Dow Chemical Company, Pittsburg.

The buildings will be constructed west of Oak Grove Road, and near the south boundary of the Contra Costa Canal. The change in zoning is from Agricultural District to Administrative Office District.

When it was originally announced that the company wanted to locate in Ygnacio Valley, several meetings were held by improvement associations. Company officials were able to convince residents that the facilities will not be detrimental to the area.

Coin, Clock Taken From Apartment

Fourteen dollars in dimes and a radio clock worth $40 were taken Sunday night from the apartment of H. B. Cable, 1106 Granger Way, Walnut Creek.

The burglar removed a screen from a kitchen window sometime between 12:30 p.m. and 1 a.m., Cable told police.

Merchants Offer Special Buys in Big Celebration

George Washington's birthday this week is the occasion of a special celebration — the sensational George Washington's Birthday Sale today and Saturday — by local merchants.

The first such event in this area, it will include bargains galore, as in the famous George Washington Birthday Sales in Washington, D.C., and elsewhere in the East.

As a special feature of the local George Washington Birthday Sale, 10 copies of this week's Sun Shopping News have "Double Lucky Suns" on the upper left-hand corner of the front page.

EACH OF THESE is worth $5 in a merchandise order to any store advertising its George Washington Birthday Sale in this week's Sun Shopping News and Sun papers.

If you have "Double Lucky Suns," get in touch promptly with your nearest Sun office.

Not only are there many bargains throughout the participating stores — but, also, a number of items are offered at prices which are absurdly low.

THESE INCLUDE some used cars, with "to go" prices so low as to make you blink unbelievingly. But the announced prices are true — and the cars are in excellent condition.

Go see for yourself — get one of the bargains-on-wheels — and drive off with it!

FOR INSTANCE, Mulberry Motors in Pleasant Hill is offering a 1949 Nash "600" — 2-door, with overdrive, radio and heater — for $95.

And Cappel Pontiac in Walnut Creek is offering a 1946 Oldsmobile, with radio, heater and hydramatic, for $71.99.

HERE ARE SOME of the other special buys in the "absurd" category — they'd be fantastic except that they're true:

Grass catchers, 99 cents; child's table and chair set, $4.95; ladies' shorts and halter set, $1; a $10.95 dress, 96 cents; a $19.95 jacket for a woman, $3; pair of moccasins, at half-price; duplicate keys, 15 cents each.

Check the ads in this issue for full details.

On Washington's Birthday itself — tomorrow — post offices, government offices, schools, banks and most stores will be closed.

However, most real estate offices will be open on Friday.

Like the "Father of Our Country," we cannot tell a lie. The George Washington Birthday Sale is as full of bargains as a Fourth of July sky is full of fireworks.

And instead of chopping down cherry trees, the merchants are chopping down prices!

Acalanes Receives Bomb Threat

Students Evacuated, But Warning Proves a Hoax

"There is a bomb in your school. It is due to go off at 10 o'clock," a deep, mysterious woman's voice told a secretary at Acalanes High School at 8:04 yesterday morning.

The threat, which was received by Mrs. Norma Clark, touched off an evacuation which had all students and employees of the school crowded for 45 minutes in the cold on the football field while a thorough search took place.

HEADING the searching party was Inspector Norman Wilson of the Walnut Creek sheriff's substation. Aided by 10 firemen from the Walnut Creek and Lafayette Fire Departments and five deputies ,he conducted the hunt between 9:30 and 10:15 a.m.

But the search was unproductive. The 10 o'clock deadline came and went, and there were no explosions. No bomb was found.

Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren informed the students of the threat and the evacuation was conducted in a "most orderly manner," deputies reported.

THE ACALANES bomb stir followed by just a day a similar threat received at the Charlotte Wood School of Danville Tuesday morning.

A man made that call, according to Undersheriff John J. Jagard, saying the bomb was planted in the school's boiler room and set to explode at 12:15 p.m.

An evacuation was also conducted there, while Jagard and sheriff's patrol units combed the building. As at Acalanes, the call proved to be a hoax.

"WE ARE entering a terrific situation," Jagard told The Sun after yesterday's excitement. "Not one of these calls can be ignored."

"What or who is behind them we don't know, but we will find out. Such a call is a felony offense," he said.

"You never know with bomb threats if it is the real thing or not. You can't take chances with them. The schools must be evacuated and searched thoroughly."

WILSON CONCURRED that such hoaxes can't be ignored. He felt that "the same set-up" could be responsible for both threats.

Lt. Bob Fisher of the Martinez sheriff's office, which turned the Acalanes case over to the Walnut Creek substation, recalled that a rash of similar bomb threats broke out in Concord last year.

"This kind of prank is in very poor taste," he said. "Whoever is doing it isn't thinking of the consequences.

"I wish I could catch someone making such a call," he offered.

Supervisor Mel Nielsen told The Sun he intends to ask that every call made to schools be traced, so that future bomb threats can be tracked down.

Law May Require Permit For Local Food Handlers

The County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday received a proposed food inspection ordinance which would create a standard $16 fee for issuing an annual permit to each food-handling establishment in unincorporated areas.

The money, County Health Department officials say, would be sufficient to add three men to their staff, making inspections every three months possible.

At present there are no permit requirements in the county, and inspections occur less than once a year in each restaurant and food-dispensing business.

THE SUPERVISORS indicated that they will set a date for a public hearing in about 30 days, and until then will seek recommendations from interested groups on how the ordinance should be changed, if need be.

Copies of the proposed ordinance are available at County Health Department offices.

At the meeting Tuesday, Robert Winkley of Safeway Stores and "Rick" Richardson of Lucky Stores, both indicated that they would like to read the ordinance carefully before expressing opinions.

Present were Mrs. Eloise Birch of Lafayette, a Parent Teachers Association district representative and Jerry Gill, president of the Eastern Contra Costa Restaurant and Tavern Owners Association.

IN FAVOR of the ordinance as it stands were Mrs. John Shelly and also A. F. Bray Jr., president of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis Association.

The proposed ordinance would charge each permanent food establishment $16 for an annual permit, and require it to meet certain sanitary requirements.

The fee would be $3 for an itinerant food dispensary, and $3 for a business which in an incidental way handles food inventoried at less than $100.

A person raising food products and selling them on his or her own property will not be required to seek a permit. This is also true of a charitable social event, although sanitation requirements must be met.

William R. Martin, supervising sanitarian of the County Health Department told The Sun, "We have now 10 field men to conduct 10 separate programs, including water, sewage, garbage, housing, recreation and food inspection.

HE CONTINUED, "The sewage program alone takes 40 per cent of their time, and very little is left for the food inspection.

"If the ordinance is passed, the County Administrator and the Civil Service Commission will be able to consider adding three men to the staff, for the money will be available.

"This is entirely up to the Commission, however, and the ordinance only indirectly affects our staff situation," he said.

The ordinance does not set up a frequency of inspection. It makes each permit not transferable, and requires that it be posted in a public place.

If the health officer finds that there is not compliance to the ordinance, he may refuse to grant the permit, or once granted, he may suspend or revoke it.

Food establishments in the county will have 120 days to qualify and apply for permits, once the ordinance is passed.

Chamber Asking Creek Rerouting

Rerouting of the San Pablo Creek to allow for additional parking in Orinda Village has been requested by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce in a letter to Victor Sauer, county public works director.

At a chamber meeting Tuesday at Casa Orinda, it was revealed that the letter had been sent asking consideration of rechanneling plan that would facilitate one-half acre of parking behind the Village.

As the creek must be rechanneled to make way for the Village Bypass, which will be started this summer.

The county is considering two rerouting plans, the more expensive of which would allow the extra parking. A committee to study the feasibility of the more costly route was formed recently by the chamber.

The letter said that Leon Woolsey (owner of a portion of land on Orinda Highway) "will be glad to turn over the contemplated half-acre of ground, between the rear of his buildings and the new access road, for public parking."

It continued that, "It was the consensus of (the) committee that the chamber should pursue this matter with your department to see if you will reconsider and place Plan B (the more costly plan) in your engineering layout for the road . . ."

In other business, the chamber received a letter from the Public Works Department explaining that the county would not take back the small area at the Crossroads deeded to the chamber for planting a Christmas Tree.

On February 8 the chamber had requested the county take back the deed.

Assessor Teams Set Sights on Central County

Fourteen appraisers of the county assessor's office will begin operations in the Central Contra Costa area as soon as equalization of land valuations is accomplished in the eastern portion of the county, according to C. H. Dunklee, county assessor.

Dunkless told delegates of the Pleasant Hill Civic Council Monday night at Fair Oaks School in Pleasant Hill that special crews will move into Pleasant Hill, Concord, Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek and the Danville Alamo Area as soon as they have finished their work in the Pittsburg-Oakley sector of the county.

Dunklee commented that the county was 15 years late in getting a larger staff for the assessors office. He said that the 14-man equalization staff has increased valuation on an average of eight per cent in the northeastern portion of the county (Richmond)

DUNKLEE STATED that in some cases valuation had been lowered but, what the department is most interested in is the tax equalization of all properties in the county.

The Civic Council had asked Dunklee to attend the meeting after certain inequities appeared on the tax rolls concerning business properties in the Pleasant Hill area.

Dunklee admitted there were such problems and his department was well aware of them. He stated that his department was so understaffed that nothing could be done until he had enough men trained for the job.

"There are inequities but we are trying to correct them as quickly as possible," he said.

HE STATED that a technical and scientific approach must be taken in the assessment of each and every parcel of property in the county before a equitable rate can be established.

"Many properties nave not been re-assessed since the day they were built. We adjust these properties according to the current index rate, he informed the delegates.

"The county is divided into five basic areas by my office. East, Central, South Western and Far Eastern. Our next area of operation is the central area, right here," Dunklee stated.

He termed the assessment of Pleasant Hill properties as being "long overdue"

"THE NEED is well known by my office but we can only do so many properties at a time with our staff. We have 27 men in the office, 14 in the field and expect to hire 14 more for field work," he said.

PIE Battle Not Ended by Decision, Association Vows

The battle to prevent Pacific Intermountain Express Company from constructing a $750,000 office building at Orinda's Pine Grove did not end Friday with the court ruling in favor of PIE. Orinda Association directors have vowed.

Following Alameda County Superior Court Judge Allen Norris' verdict against the association's injunction suit, association President Walter E. (Gene) Estes said that the two-year fight to block the development will continue.

"Most of the members I've talked to think we should keep fighting," Estes said.

THE ASSOCIATION'S board of directors will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Orinda School to discuss further action in the case.

According to association Attorney Mrs. Gladys B. Schwatka, Judge Norris' written decision would not be available for three weeks, and any appeal action would have to await a study of his decision.

"We will have 60 days after the written decision is handed down to appeal," she said.

PHILIP H. Small, PIE vice-president, said his company does not plan to start construction "until the legal situation regarding possible appeals is absolutely cleared up and all appeal periods have expired."

When the judge telephoned his decision to the court clerk Friday morning, he said:

"The Orinda Association's petition for relief is denied. The basic issues are resolved by essentially the same considerations held in the decree denying a preliminary injunction.

"DURING THE trial the facts were more fully developed, but the nature and patterns of them were comparatively unchanged, and the legal principals previously applied are controlling."

He also ruled that PIE shall recover its costs in court from the Orinda Association. Mrs. Schwatka said these costs do not include attorneys' fees and would come to about $25.

The verdict climaxed a two year battle which ensued soon after PIE purchased 10.8 acres at the Pine Grove from East Bay Municipal Utility District for a reported $130,000.

WHEN A preliminary survey convinced the company a majority of residents would favor the project, PIE announced early in 1955 its intentions to build the plush, rambling administrative office.

Some 200 employees would be housed in the building, the company announced.

The structure would be a beautiful one, PIE promised, in keeping with Orinda's atmosphere, and would be built to fit the site so that the Pine Grove would not be disturbed.

THERE WAS no intention of using the site as a truck terminal, the trucking line said, adding that it would have to pay $20,000 a year in taxes, $8000 of which would go to the Orinda School District.

But that's when the Orinda Association, amid howls of protest, began to group its forces for the long battle.

The organization hired Francis Violich, a University of California professor, as a planning consultant. He studied the matter and contended that the Pine Grove site was the best and most logical place for a community center.

A FEAR THAT the building would open the door to industrialization of the community was voiced by association spokesmen.

PIE, offering an alternate site for the center and promising to pay one-third of the cost of developing the land, then struck back with a poll of 2428 Orinda residents.

The poll, according to the company, showed that 2095 of these favored the construction, while only 333 were opposed.

BUT THE question of residents' favoritism became confused when an association poll reportedly showed that about 75 per cent of the locals were opposed to the PIE development.

The opposing interest finally met head on. The battlefield was the County Planning Commission. A series of bitter hearings were held, with each side transporting its witnesses to Martinez.

But when the hearings were closed, the planners sent the PIE request to rezone the Pine Grove area to allow for the building was sent to the Board of Supervisors with a recommendation for approval.

THE FIGHT changed arenas, but didn't slacken in intensity. After another stormy hearing, the supervisors concurred with the planners and the request was granted.

Disappointed by the county, the Orinda Association on June 14, 1956, filed suit to nullify the board's action and to enjoin County Building Inspector Rudy Kraintz from issuing a building permit.

All Contra Costa Superior Juduges disqualified themselves for the showdown, and in a preliminary hearing Judge Norris refused to grant the injunctions.

THE SUIT was tried on November 26 and 27, with Deputy District Attorney Matthew S. Walker representing the county; Bestor Robinson presenting PIE's case; and Attorney Nathan Engleberg and Mrs. Schwatka speaking for the association.

The plaintiff's attorneys alleged that the PIE proposal was an "invasion detrimental to Orinda's residential nature, that the structure was not designed to provide business service and that the rezoning was "capricious."

Supervisors Act Quickly On Measure

Switch blade and push blade knives were outlawed by unanimous decision of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday evening. The ordinance termed an "emergency measure" became effective immediatly.

Ray Taylor, chairman of the board of supervisors told District Attorney Francis Collins, that he considered the ordinance outlawing the legal weapons necessary due to a "serious emergency."

THE ACTION was taken after Mel Nielsen, second district supervisor, slammed down a switch blade knife in the Board's Chambers which was confiscated from a 12 year old Alamo student.

Nielsen said that he had received numerous complaints from Lafayette parents concerning the carrying of knives by students.

"Some pupils are afraid to go to school without the protection of a boy scout knife in their pocket," Neilsen exclaimed.

NEILSEN TOLD The Sun yesterday that he received a call Saturday morning from a representative of the United States Air Force Reserve, who lives in Lafayette. He related the following facts to Neilsen.

"My son asked me if it was all right if he brought his boy scout pocket knife to school with him. I asked him why and he answered: 'Some of the boys in school have switch blade knives and they flash them in the other kids' faces. I'd feel safer with a knife in my pocket too'."

Neilsen continued saying that he contacted the sheriff, Harry Brown and John Davis, probation officer of the county to check with them if they had had like reports.

BROWN SAID that he had been called to Stone Valley School in Alamo the preceeding week in answer to a call by the principal.

The principal, John Waugh, was very upset about the matter Neilson related to The Sun. He had confiscated a switch blade knife and a large hunting knife from two boys in the school.

Davis snowed concern that the switch blade and push blade knives had filtered into the central portion of the county. Davis said he had known of their use in the northern part of the county (Richmond, Martinez, Pittsburg and Antioch) but, was shocked that there were as many reports in the central portion of the county.

GEORGE McCLURE, deputy district attorney, told the Sun that the ordinance bans the sale, trade, giving or possession by any adult or minor of a switch blade (a knife whose opening is operated by a spring. The blade swings out in a 180 degree arc and locks in a cutting position) or push blade (a knife which is operated by a spring but, the blade is thrust directly forward by the spring rather than in an arc)

Neilsen stated that push blade and spring blade knives had no use as hunting knives and in the eyes of the board their sole purpose in existance was as a lethal weapon which can be easily and readily concealed.

UNDERSHERIFF John Jagard said that the ordinance is being enforced right now but, that merchants who have the knives and purchased them in good faith prior to Tuesday's ordinance will be given the opportunity of returning them to wholesalers.

"More buying and selling will not be tolerated," Jagard said.

Notices are being put up in schools and all merchants are being notified about the new ordinance, Jagard explained.

McClure pointed out that the maximum fine and penalty for infraction of any portion of the ordinance is $500 and/or six months imprisonment.

"THE ORDINANCE gives the sheriff a very powerful tool in clearing up juvenile crime in the entire county. For example, the case of the teen age boys who knocked a school teacher's wife into a chair and tore her blouse in her own home," Neilsen commented.

"If these boys would have been found to be carrying knives of the switch blade or push blade type, which they are believed to have been carrying they could have been held on a very serious charge.

"They could not be held for breaking and illegal entry since they knocked on the door and were admitted by the woman. The sheriff's hands were tied in the case by legal technicalities but, with the new ordinance things will be different," said Neilsen.

In a survey of local school districts concerning the outlawed switch blade and push blade knives The Sun learned that Las Lomas High School of the Acalanes High School District has not had a problem with children carrying them on their persons. The same was found concerning Acalanes High.

In the Mt .Diablo School District calls were placed to Pacifica High in West Pittsburg, Pleasant Hill High School and Mt. Diablo High. No known problem was reported by officials in any of these schools.

Burglars Sack 2 Orinda Homes; Loot Tops $1245

Some $1245 to $1645 in jewelry, appliances, canned goods, liquor, silver and linens were stolen from two Orinda homes February 13, apparently by the same burglars.

Victims were Mr. and Mrs. Langley Brookes, 19 Charles Hill Circle, and the Harold Bryants, 245 Glorietta Boulevard.

THE BROOKES told Walnut Creek sheriff's deputies that their home had been entered sometime between 7 and 10:45 p.m. while they were attending a movie.

Deputies said the house had been ransacked. The loot included sterling silver items, a 21-inch television set, a camera, whiskey, linen and canned food.

A bedspread and pillow slip were taken, apparently to wrap the stolen items.

NEIGHBORS told investigators that they heard a car roar away from the house during the evening. Brookes estimated the value of the missing items at $650.

The thieves forced their way through French doors leading to the living room to gain entry.

A similar break-in was used to enter the Bryant home. The burglars pried a bedroom window while the owners were absent between 5:30 and 11 p.m.

STOLEN FROM the Bryant residence were a large amount of jewelry, silver plates, four handbags, a pair of binoculars and other items.

Linen to wrap the items was also taken from the Bryants.

Incomplete estimate of the loss is around $1000. Bryant, 71, is a retired national park superintendent.

Footprints of the culprits were found both inside and outside the Bryant home.

Deputies are still investigating the burglaries.

Lutheran

"While Ye Have Light" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson, pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, 1035 Carol Lane, Lafayette, at the 8:15 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday.

Nursery accommodations are available during the 11 a.m. service.

Sunday School classes meet at 9:30 a.m. for pre-school through Adult Bible Class, and at 11 a.m. for pre-school through grade three.

Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. the "work day" will be held at the home of Dorothy Rodman, 1025 Willow Drive, Lafayette. The Board of Deacons will meet in the evening at 8 p.m.

Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. the Bible Study will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Val White, 3275 Val's Lane, Lafayette.

'Only 39 Calls in Month' From Orinda to Sheriff

During the past month calls of all kinds from the Orinda area to the sheriff's substation in Walnut Creek have totaled 39 calls, Inspector Norman Wilson said Monday night.

"That's considerably less than an average of two calls per day," he told the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee at its meeting at Orinda School auditorium.

"And that includes all sorts of calls—reports of burglary, petty theft and any other incidents or complaints," he added.

INSPECTOR WILSON is in charge of the Walnut Creek substation. He was introduced by Robeson Smith of the steering committee of the Civic Affairs Committee.

Wilson stated that work has begun on construction of the new substation immediately north of the main fire house in Lafayette, on Moraga Road, and that it will be occupied "by May 1 at the latest."

The new substation will have two cells and an interrogation room, he said. The new quarters are necessitated by the forthcoming freeway construction in the Walnut Creek area.

THE AREA served by the substation was described by the inspector as extending from the Contra Costa Golf Club to Tilden Park and down to the county line, toward Dublin.

The staff at the substation includes 14 persons, he said—the inspector, 10 regular patrolmen, two investigators and a secretary.

Dr. Leonard Roth asked how long it takes the substation to answer a call from Orinda regarding burglary.

WILSON REPLIED that in the the two most recent cases, the sheriff's men arrived at the scene in five minutes.

"Generally, the longest time it would take us would be 20 to 25 minutes," he continued.

Later in the meeting Bob Dozier of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association told of discussion by his neighborhood association on police protection.

HE RAISED the question of whether establishment of a community service district should be considered, for obtaining increased police protection.

Dr. Ralph C. Hall, Civic Affairs Committee chairman, suggested that the other delegates ascertain the feeling of their groups about such a community service district.

This was agreed to, with the idea that the subject would be discussed further by the Civic Affairs Committee.

New Hospital Group Born In Lafayette

Booth Memorial Hospital has a new women's auxiliary in Lafayette — the "Valleymonts."

Roster of the new group, which is sponsored by Mrs. Frank J. Partland of the Highlanders group, was presented recently to Auxiliary President Mrs. George Johnson by Auxiliary Organizer Mrs. Leonard W. Hagstrom.

CHAIRMAN of the local chapter, which will meet the third Tuesday of each month, is Mrs. James Y. Robertson.

Other officers are Mrs. C. F. Cooper, secretary; and Mrs. W. J. Weiskirch, treasurer.

Other charter members are Mesdames C. M. Allen, E. L. Bellegarde, C. O. Berggren, A. L. Brooks, R. W. Hughey, P. Holmes, Keith E. Johnson, D. P. LaField, T. T. Staffler, R. W. Stahl, J. M. Villa, and L. T. Wilcox.

BOOTH HOSPITAL was the first home of this kind in the United States, established by the Social Service Department of the Salvation Army in 1887 in Oakland.

It is one of 13 in the country which cares for unwed mothers, regardless of age, race, creed, color or finances, and without geographical limitations of residence.

The auxiliary consists of volunteer women representing 16 neighborhood groups throughout the East Bay, with associate members in San Francisco, and numbers over 500.

THE AUXILIARY not only raises money for the hospital but assists in the rehabilitation program, under the supervision of a trained social worker, crafts, sewing, knitting, embroidery, weaving, typing and shorthand.

Last year the auxiliary contributed $10,000 toward the new functional all purpose Educaional and Recreational Building, which is expected to be completed by the early part of April.

New Furniture Store, Gordon's, Will 'Satisfy'

"Complete furniture selections to satisfy everyone's taste."

That's what is being offered by Lafayette's new Gordon's Furniture, which recently opened its doors at 3577 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Store owner is William Gordon Murchison, who has plenty of experience in the furniture line and knows what folks want in their homes.

Offering maple and modern furniture and carpeting, Murchison said he picked Lafayette for his establishment because it is a "progressive and growing, high type of community."

Manager of the new store is Lou Morley, who was formerly manager of both Wiseman's Furniture and Appliance Store of Richmond and Jackson's Furniture in Oakland.

"We want to serve the needs of the people," the two men said. "We will be happy to hear their desires and try to fill them."

Don Thespians Rate 'Superior'

Acalanes High School dramatic students won a "superior" rating from judges in the first annual Drama Festival held last Saturday by eight Contra Costa High schools at Pacifica.

Students presented a one-act play, "The Flattering Word," directed by instructor Miss Mona McTaggert. Dons performing at the Festival were Alan Hewitt, Pat Jackson, Steve Pickering, Judy Henderson and Grace Corse. Jeanne Hunnicutt served as assistant director and Jon Tibbets worked as stage manager.

A banquet for the student thespians followed the play presentations.

Pupils to Present New Modes in Burton Show

A delightful selection of children's fashions, being presented by Shoo Time Shopping for Burton School's Fashion Show March 2 in the Stanley School auditorium, will be modeled by the pupils.

The models will include:

Barbie Case, Sherry Coldren, Carol Converse, Joe Kohler, Colleen Walson, Carol Mero, Winkie Wolfe, Pamela Linville, Chris Scammel, George Ann DeVilbiss, Denise Johnson, Nancy Blodgett, Tim Nielson, Jane Ruth Erford, Carolee Learner, Zoe Fredrick, Curt Follmer, Tommy Highes, Pam Ward and Susan Blake.

Pirouetting in styles from Fiesta Fashions will be Mesdames:

Erwin Easton, Herman Silverman, L. V. Tower, L. J. Biegel, Jo An Hess, Jack Galliano, Norval Wyrick, Rodney Saylor, Fred Volberg, Lloyd Homer, Max Coons and Gladys Garland.

A sneak preview of the table decorations for the show, at the home of chairman Mrs. Ruth Waddell, revealed manzanita trees trimmed with gaily wrapped candies hanging from the tips of branches.

Another eye-catching decoration was a stand, approximately 18 inches high, topped by yellow and green balloons, on which was hung a puppet clown dressed in yellow and purple crepe paper.

According to Billie Haggerty, in charge of prizes, the admission ticket will entitle the bearer to one of the many prizes donated by local merchants.

Martha Boler, in charge of the food and favors, stated that a surprise was instore for those attending the fashion show.

Tickets have been distributed to the various room mothers and are now on sale at $1.25 each, according to Mrs. Virginia Byrnes.

Mardi Gras Will Be French Fest At La Maisonette

It's nearly "Mardi Gras" time at Lafayette's La Maisonette!

And the French style restaurant, located at 3678 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, wil be the scene of all the gaiety, music and celebration of Mardi Gras tonight and tomorrow and Saturday nights.

This means that local residents who attend La Maisonette's grand opening on any or all nights can get all the color of the Mardi Gras celebration and Carnival of Nice, France, right here at home.

The grand opening celebration started last night.

The local festivities will coincide with those of the French resort city.

There's a good reason for the two celebrations taking place simultaneously, too, say La Maisonette owners and hosts Arlene and Antoine DuBoise.

For the local restaurant is offering genuine French cuisine, plus candlelight and wine and favors for Madame and Monsieur.

To complete the European atmosphere, strolling musicians will play soft music while wandering among the tables.

Planners Adopt Rezone Findings

Findings of its technical staff recommending approval of one Lafayette rezoning request and denial of another were adopted Tuesday night by the County Planning Commission.

The planners voted last week to approve the request of David Calderon to rezone his 2/3-acre property on Mt. Diablo Boulevard from a Single-Family Residential District (R-1) to Commercial (C).

At the same time, the commission agreed to recommend denial of Claudio Garibotti's request to change his ¼-acre lot on Wilkinson Lane near Moraga Road from Multiple-Family-Residential (M-R-A) to Retail Business (R-B).

Both recommendations will be forwarded to the Board of Supervisors, which will set hearings on the issues.

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

If a machine answers, don't be surprised—and don't hang up. What you hear is an Automatic Answering Set. It could happen when you call a business man at lunch time. Or a doctor after office hours. These remarkable machines give callers a recorded greeting, take a recorded message. They're being used more and more in offices these days. And in homes, too. By guarding against "lost" calls, they make your telephone service more useful than ever . . . worth more to you.

* * * * *

One of the most useful ways to use your telephone is for shopping. Especially when you're guided by the Yellow Pages of your telephone book. At a loss for gift or decorating ideas? Try browsing through the Yellow Pages. See if you don't come up with an answer. Have a definite service or item in mind? Page headings—in easy alphabetical order—will lead you right to it. Remember whatever you need, you'll find it fast in the Yellow Pages.

Realtors Place 3 in Top State Posts; To Host U.S. Leader

The Contra Costa Real Estate Board is the only such group in California to have three members as key men on California Real Estate Board Association.

Another proof of its growing importance is that on March 26, Kenneth Keyes of Miami, Fla., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will speak at a luncheon at the El Nido, sponsored by the local board.

Wayne Bailey, executive-secretary of the board, with pride told The Sun of these developments yesterday.

THE TOP STATE committee appointments are as follows:

Harland Geldermann is state chairman of the Builders and Land Developers Committee of the CREA.

Barney Gilbert is membership chairman of the CREA.

William Anderson has been appointed legislative chairman of the CREA Northern Division.

BAILEY said, "Three such major appointments for a board our size is practically unheard of; this is more major appointments than for any other board in the state!"

The luncheon-meeting at the El Nido will have the local realtors as hosts to members of the Concord Board, the East Contra Costa Board, and the Martinez Board.

This will be the first time the central county group has ever been visited by a national president, said Bailey.

The word that Keyes will attend the luncheon was relayed from Bailey to Board President Jesse (Nick) Carter last Saturday.

"THE NATIONAL president normally only has time for the big cities in the United States, and it is very unusual for him to get to a lesser area," said Bailey.

Other guests on March 26 will include Mortimer Clark of San Francisco, president of the California Real Estate Association, and H. Jackson Pontius.

The luncheon will be open to the public. Reservations must be secured from the Realtors' office on Locust Street. About 300 persons are expected to attend. Wives will be welcomed.

At the regular weekly meeting in the El Nido Monday morning, Glen Noyes will speak on "Your Future as a Real Estate Salesman."

Noyes is general sales manager of Mason MacDuffie Company of Berkeley.

This week, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Silverman of The Sun spoke at the breakfast meeting.

County Society Seeking to Create Cancer Cure Control

Dr. A. R. Reinke of Concord has been appointed legislative chairman of the Contra Costa County Branch of the American Cancer Society to coordinate activities of the county branch in securing passage of Assembly Bill No. 2359.

This is the so-called "Cancer Board Bill' sponsored by the American Cancer Society, the California Medical Association and the California Osteopathic Association.

Its purpose, according to Dr. Reinke, is to establish a ten-man Cancer Board of physicians, surgeons, and osteopaths empowered to investigate and test any drug, medicine, compound or device used in California for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

"This bill, when passed, will protect the public from 'cancer quacks' who claim falsely to possess a medicine, method or technique which will cure cancer," Reinke said.

"Many people, relying on these claims, resort to unorthodox methods and die needlessly when they might mave been saved by approved methods of treatment," he added.

He added that no state governmental agency now exists to investigate these claims, test the drugs and devices used, inform the public of the facts found, and protect the public from misrepresentation.

The Cancer Bill was introduced by Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger of San Francisco on January 21 and a hearing of the bill will be held in March.

Juvenile Officers Cite Need for Auxiliary Work

"Juvenile Hall will be more crowded this year," warned John Davis, county probation officer, at the CCC Juvenile Hall annual meeting recently.

"As probation Department cases increase, so will the auxiliary services needed for our children in trouble," he pointed out, while citing the extraordinary one-year achievements of the auxiliary through its volunteers.

Don Morrison, superintendent of Juvenile Hall, thanked outgoing Auxiliary President Mrs. F. P. Lonergan of Danville for the services and material aid given children through the 24 volunteer units now aiding the Hall and Probation Department programs.

"The volunteer contribution was immeasurably aided by the generosity of the Grant B. Schley Foundation, which enabled the auxiliary to place Mrs. Laurence Nicolson as a full-time Volunteer Services director at the hall to augment and consolidate the county's volunteer services," he pointed out.

New officers of the auxiliary for 157-58 elected were:

President, Mrs. Harold Frazier; Vice-presidents, Frank Seville, Mrs. Harry Grantham, Rev. Raymond B. Huddleston, Mrs. Mary Freeby, and Mrs. Robert Adams.

Corresponding Secretary is Mrs. Sallie Hoff; Recording Secretary, Mrs. T. W. Marston; Treasurer, Mrs. Major Gorton West; Membership, Mrs. Donald Willhalm; and head of the Speakers Bureau, Jerome Waldie.

Full financial, activity and planning reports were given by Mrs. Lonergan, Mrs. Nicolson and Mrs. Ted McIntyre, corresponding secretary.

Reichert Prexy Of Valley View

The Valley View Estates Improvement Association in Lafayette has elected the following officers, to serve for the coming year:

President, Don Reichert; vice-president, Stan Haley; treasurer, Bill Wharton; Secretary, Nell Tinker; member-at-large on the executive board, Ray Graham.

Reichert was member-at-large during the past year. Other outgoing officers wer Noel Pedersen, president; Richard Wetmore, vice - president; Sherman Eubanks, treasurer, and Rosemary Dippo, secretary.

The organization met February 11 at the home of Joe Leschinsky, 3531 Hillcrest Drive.

Pest Control In Contra Costa Is Discussed

An informal meeting was held February 14 in the Agricultural Extension Building, Pittsbrug, by the County Department of Agriculture and 27 representatives of pest control companies handling home garden, ornamental and nursery spraying operations.

Agricultural Commissioner A. L. Seeley, chairman, briefly discussed county registration, monthly reports and state regulations.

Forrest Darby, field supervisor of Agricultural Pest Control Work for the state, covered the State license and renewal provisions.

Milton Bell, county farm advisor, presented the latest spray recommendations on some pests such as aphids, walnut blight and oak moth.

A number of colored slides were shown of many of the common pests found in Contra Costa County along with a few more serious scale insects which are considered eradication pests in nurseries.

Members of Sealey's staff and Dave Bingham, district nursery inspecor for the state, gave some of the identifying characteristics, hosts and control measures while the slides were being shown.

Miramonte Drill Is Today; Other Plants Scheduled

A Civil Defense practice alert will be held this morning at 10:30 at Miramonte High School.

A similar drill has been tentatively scheduled for a week from today at Acalanes High School.

And on March 6 or 7, Las Lomas High will hold its drill in preparation for a "yellow" or "red" alert which would indicate that enemy bombers are headed for the United States.

THE SCHEDULE of drills announced by Acalanes High School District CD Coordinator Art Dambacher indicates that teachers and principals have been working hard to get plans for clearing school buildings of students out of the talking stage and into the "doing" stage,

At each school, the drill will be confined to the school grounds, but will include arrival on the grounds of motor car transportation and at Miramonte, actual loading up.

At Acalanes High, the boys and girls will stand ready by their cars and the cars driven to the grounds by parents who have volunteered for the program. Students will not get in the cars.

At Las Lomas, administrators are sizing up their peculiar problems, and will decide on loading later on.

DAMBACHER SAID that the drills will reveal where there are weaknesses in the procedures, and how well the coordination with the parents' transportation will pan out.

The drill at Miramonte will involve about 390 students, at Acalanes 1200, and Las Lomas, nearly 1100. Principals and their staffs will be in charge.

County administrators have been invited to witness the Miramonte drill, said Dambacher.

A loudspeaker announcement will be the warning that the drill is to begin at Miramonte. Participating students will walk to loading ramps, and non-participating students will assemble in the gymnasium.

In a real alert, the non-participating students would be excused to walk home on their own. They are those whose parents have indicated that they do not want their children to be included in the drills.

Key men in the district are Principals James Lewis of Miramonte, Stanley Walgren of Acalanes High and Lee Russell of Las Lomas.

Donald Doyle, Fred Kracke to Talk On Mental Health

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle, and attorney Frederick Kracke will discuss "Current Mental Health Legislation" on Wednesday night at a public meeting sponsored by the Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association.

It will start at 8 p.m. in the Oak Park School, 3108 Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

The discussion will center on the Community Mental Health Services Act No. 244 which was introduced into the Legislature January 11 by Senator Alan Short and 26 other Senators. A bill appropriating $850,000 accompanied the measure.

A companion measure has also been introduced in the Assembly by Doyle and others. Copies may be obtained by writing the Legislative Bill Room, State Capitol Sacramento for SB 244, SB 245 and AB 630.

The bill is designed to provide a 50 per cent state subsidy for community programs in these five areas of service: outpatient clinics, in patient services in general hospitals, rehabilitation, information and education, and consultant services to appropriate agencies and groups.

The Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association is supporting this legislation. Anyone may become a member of the Association with a $3 membership fee mailed to P.O. Box 89, Walnut Creek.

The Mental Health Association will also supply to interested groups and individuals pamphlets, films and speakers and general mental health information.

The office is located at 1924 Walnut Avenue in St. Paul's Episcopal Church Parish Hall or requests will be received at YE 5-1015.

Party to Boost Orinda Young Republican Club

The third annual Champagne Party of the Orinda Young Republican Club will be held at the Willows in Orinda early in March, according to Jim Lindsey, social chairman.

The event is held annually to increase the membership of the club.

Tickets are $1, and all persons in the Orinda area who are eligible for membership are invited and welcome to attend.

There will be a booth set up at which non-members may join. The date and time will be announced later.

Sunday is 'Heart' Sunday Your Gift Will Fight Disease

The 1957 Heart Fund drive will reach its climax on Sunday in the central county when 4000 volunteers under their neighborhood captains will ring doorbells from 1 to 3 p.m. Contributions will fight the heart diseases.

This is the second annual Heart Sunday drive conducted in the central county.

The Heart Sunday goal is $50,000, an increase of $20,000 over last year's collections.

THE MASS, house-to-house collection will be similar to Heart Sunday collections being conducted in nearly 5,000 other communities at about the same time, according to Williams S. Palmer, general campaign chairman.

Never before, in the four years that Heart Sunday collections have been conducted nationally, have so many communities joined in the effort, he said.

"In this community drive, the object is to give the householder an opportunity to contribute, easily and privately, in a sealed envelope, to the fight against the cardiovascular diseases," Palmer explained.

Heart Fund proceeds are used to support the battle against the heart and blood vessel diseases conducted by the Contra Costa County Heart Association and the American Heart Association with which it is affiliated.

A MAJOR PORTION of the money collected in the 57 affiliated Heart Associations and their chapters remains in the area and in the state of collection for the support of local research, education and community service programs.

In its profesional education program, the Contra Costa County Heart Association is currently sponsoring an eight-session postgraduate course for Physicians at the Contra Costa County Hospital in Martinez.

The third meeting of the course is scheduled for Monday, when Dr. Richards Parker Lyon, of the University of California School of Medicine, will discuss "Kidney Disease, Medical and Surgical, in Daily Practice."

In the research field, the Contra Costa Heart Association is sponsoring research on diet as it affects hardening of the arteries, conducted by Dr. John W. Gofman of the Donner Laboratory at the University of California.

AN EXTENSIVE public education program to bring the public up-to-date information in the field of heart disease is caried on by means of film showings, distribution of literature and special courses for groups in Contra Costa County.

Of that portion of the collections which goes to the American Heart Association, more than 50 per cent automatically is used to support research.

A total of almost 20 million Heart Fund dollars has been channeled into research in the eight years since the American Heart Association has been organized.

"The Heart Sunday collection, carried into every home in the community, gives every resident an opportunity to help fight these diseases directly with a contribution to the Heart Fund," Palmer said.

He suggested that those residents who will not be home Sunday may address contributions to H-E-A-R-T, care of local postmaster.

Leaders Get Ready for Solicitations

Here are the Heart Sunday Leaders:

Mrs. Harold Robinson, Lafayette chairman, will be assisted by 16 captains and 240 volunteers.

Mrs. M. C. Gildersleeve, captain, announced that the following volunteers will assist her: Mesdames G. R. Kilborn, N. Hanson, W. E. Brooks, E. Bancigalupo, J. B. Jose, E. D. Coleman, E. Von Prussing and A. H. Newell.

In Orinda, Mrs. J. H. Schwarck plans complete coverage with 172 volunteers directed by captains.

Mrs. William Claraty, Walnut Creek Heart Sunday chairman, with the assistance of 32 captains, will direct the efforts of 479 doorbell ringers.

Mrs. Trev Burrow, Pleasant Hill chairman, announced the appointment of 11 captains to be assisted by 176 volunteers.

In Alamo, Mrs. Dorr Yeager, assisted by Edna Keyes, expects to call on homes with the aid of 13 volunteer workers.

George Vargas and Mrs. William S. Palmer have scheduled eight captains and 117 workers for Sunday in Danville.

Mrs. Tinker Takes Top CREA Post

Mildred Tinker, Walnut Creek realtor, has been elected chairman of the Women's Division of District 5, California Real Estate Association.

District 5, known as the "north district" includes all Real Estate Boards in Contra Costa County.

This is the first time that a local woman has been picked for the job. Tenure is one year.

The announcement was made by Frank Ricks, regional vice president.

Mrs. Tinker is president of the Women's Division of the Contra Costa Board.

Anti-Gambling Fight Now Letter Writing Campaign

The current movement seeking the abolishment of pinball machines and the abatement of card rooms in all the unincorporated areas of the county has turned into a "letter writing campaign," Bob Kaemper informed members of the Pleasant Hill Civic Council.

Kaemper, chairman of the Public Welfare and Protection Committee, told delegates that several other organizations had joined in passing resolutions asking for abolishment of the pinball machines and card rooms.

AMONG THE organizations are the Crestview Junior Women's Club and the Council of Church Women. The Ministerial Association and the Council of Churches are expected to pass like resolutions asking for the controlling ordinances, according to observers.

Kaemper reported that a board of 14 persons had been organized for the purpose of obtaining a lighting system for Pleasant Hill High School Athletic Field.

The group will seek to incorporate and sell non-interest bearing bonds for the purchase of the system.

Kaemper stated that four batteries of lights were available from the Oakland Oaks ball park. Los Lomas High School and Acalanes High School were to have purchased all 16 of the standards but needed only six apiece.

THE TOTAL COST of the four towers is $6100.

Kaemper estimated that the total cost for six towers and lights plus transformers and related equipment including installation would be approximately $25,000. The original estimate had been as high as $40,000 for the lighting system.

ALTHOUGH HE did not state how much of a down payment on the Oakland lights was needed to retain them for Pleasant Hill High, Kaemper stated that a down payment was needed within a week or two.

He urged that anyone wishing to contribute toward the lights drive send a check or money order care of Arthur Bloom, principal, Pleasant Hill High School, Pleasant Hill.

Sheriff's Car, Siren Screaming, Hit Broadside

A deputy sheriff's car, roaring through downtown Walnut Creek with siren wide open was struck broadside at 11:25 a.m. Tuesday. Charles Young of Oakland, driver of the other car, was cited for failure to heed a siren.

Contra Costa Deputy Sheriff Steve Rossi was headed south towards the Main Street and Ygnacio Avenue intersection, when the collision occurred.

He was answering a call that a bomb may have been planted in a school in Danville.

Neither driver was hurt, though the cars were extensively damaged.

A similar mishap almost took place minutes later when a second sheriff's car at full speed came into the accident area bound for the Alamo school, according to police.

Youth Group Tells Need For Building

Youth and adult members of the group's committee on teenage problems told the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association Monday night that a large youth-center building and a restaurant which would stay open after 9 p.m. are two definite needs for Orinda's young people.

The delegates and visitors at the Civic Affairs gathering at Orinda School auditorium heard Marilyn Engelhard, co-chairman, and Susan Wasson, secretary, of the youth section of the teenage-needs committee report on deliberations of the teenagers.

Marilyn and Susan stressed that a suitable building where young people would be able to gather is desired by the youth section of their committee.

THEY AND Stanley Allen, chairman of the adult section of the committee, also mentioned the desirability of a restaurant which would serve young people after 9 p.m., so that the teenagers would have a suitable eating place at which they could gather after the theater.

Allen expressed the hope that adults in Orinda would encourage establishment of such a restaurant.

He and the two girls said that recreational facilities, such as a bowling alley and a billiard table, might be practicable goals in the expansion of facilities at a youth-center building.

IT WAS POINTED out by the speakers that a restaurant might meet the situation temporarily, pending the completion of a youth center building.

Dr. Ralph C. Hall, Civic Affairs chairman, announced addition of Mrs. Arthur Flint, Mrs. Stuart Henderson, Mrs. Doris Fernsten and Almont Keopf to the adult unit of the teenage-needs committee.

Other committee appointments announced by Dr. Hall were:

ROADS — Marion Baker, chairman; Don Simpson; tax study — Clarence Betz, Norman Tuttle (previously named were Joseph Longacre, chairman, Bruce Howard and Clyde MacDonald); commuter parking — John Rinne, Wally Riddell (previously named was Horace Breed, chairman); revision of policies and procedures — Mrs. Earl Hill (previously announced was Edgar Stewart, chairman); public relations — Dorothy Barden, Ross Van Dyke (previously announced was Ted Taylor, chairman).

Mrs. Baker reported that on the basis of incomplete returns from questionnaires which had been sent to neighborhood improvement groups, "it appears that Orinda is quite dissatisfied with its roads."

She pointed out, however, that only about one-third of the questionnaires have been returned so far.

TED MAY of the incorporation committee reported that petitions asking the Board of Supervisors to schedule an election on Orinda incorporation, although they have the signatures of more than 25 per cent of Orinda property owners, have less than 20 per cent of the community's assessed valuation (without improvements) represented by the signatures.

Victim's Tip Helps Capture Young Burglars

The sharp observation of a burglary victim has led to the capture and confession of the culprits, a pair of 19-year-old boys from Oakland.

Walnut Creek sheriff's substation authorities reported that Paul Bondcho of Oakland and Keith Pinkstan, who was visiting Bondcho from Kansas, were picked up in Oakland last week for two recent burglaries.

The youths confessed to burglarizing the home of Archie Ginochio at Bear Creek and Briones Valley Roads, and the house-trailer of St. Mary's College student Darryl Gunther.

A World War I pistol, a man's wristwatch, a box of silver plated cocktail forks and a pair of driving glasses were taken from Ginochio. Shortly after, Gunther reported to deputies that a hi-fidelity phonograph and a tape recorder had been stolen.

When Ginochio reported his loss, he told deputies that he saw the burglars fleeing from his home as he stopped to investigate the strange car parked in the yard.

He managed to spot and memorize the license plate number of the car. This allowed investigators to track down the youths.

Grand Jury's Committee to Seek Pinball Ban

Reports have been received that the County Grand Jury's law enforcement committee will request that a recommendation be made to the Board of Supervisors that multiple-play pinball machines be banned and card-rooms controlled in unincorporated areas.

Indications are that the grand jury will follow the request by its committee, headed by Gordon Langlois of El Cerrito.

The actions would stem from vigorous efforts last summer by County Sheriff Harry Brown to persuade the Supervisors to pass ordinances against the multiple-play machines and against unrestricted card-room activities.

Brown had asked that the card-rooms be required to close at 2 a.m., and that the number of tables and players per table be limited.

He also asked that permits be necessary for all social halls, pool halls and cardrooms. Violators would be subject to a maximum of $500 fine and six months in jail.

After the Board of Supervisors postponed decisions on pinballs and cardrooms, Sheriff Brown went directly to the State Attorney-General in asking for a ruling on their legality.

Youths Caught After Kidnaping Orinda Dentist

An Orinda dentist arrived home unharmed Sunday morning after having been kidnapped and robbed following a flight from Los Angeles.

Dr. Felix A. Smith, of 528 Moraga Highway, was walking to his car in the parking lot of the Redwood City airport about 11:30 p.m. Saturday night he was approached by three youths.

One of the youths pointed a pistol at him and ordered him to get in his car, he told detectives.

Then began a harrowing two hour ride, during which one of the young men, Peter John Tovar, 20, of Menlo Park, left the car with Smith's wallet. There was $39 in the wallet.

The other two, Noel D. Collins, 19, of Menlo Park and Douglas Anderson, 22, of Palo Alto, finally left.

All three were picked up soon after at the air port and identified by their victim.

All three were charged with armed robbery and kidnaping. Collins was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon, a .25 caliber pistol.

Collins and Tovar said they and Anderson had planned to rob someone at the airport to raise the price of two fares to Los Angeles. They already had one ticket.

They said they picked on Smith because he "looked like he had money."

Fire Routs 200 Diners From Willows

Dinner was rudely interrupted for some 200 persons by the sight and smell of smoke wafting through the Orinda Willows Saturday night.

The smoke was pouring from a small blaze which broke out in a part of the nitery's basement under the bandstand.

Smelling the smoke first, a pair of Coast Guardsmen, George Hall Jr., 25, of 86 Estates Drive, and Raye Teichrow, 24, went down to the basement to investigate.

Discovering the fire, they emptied fire extinguishers on it until the Orinda Fire Department arrived.

The diners, who had filed out, waited about half an hour until the fire was out and the smoke cleared. Then they returned to cocktails and their meals.

Fire Chief Everett Wyatt said damage was minor, caused chiefly by smoke and water.

The restaurant was acquired only three days previously by Irving Moore, of 6 El Camino Moraga. It had been closed for about a week before the incident.

Cools Off Fast

St. Valentine's Day, appropriately enough, started the past weather-week off with an almost springlike 71-degree warmth.

The next day reached the same level — but after that, the daily maximum readings were considerably lower.

There was no rain up to yesterday, with the result that the weather-year total (since last July 1) remained at 10.62 inches.

Here were the highs and lows:

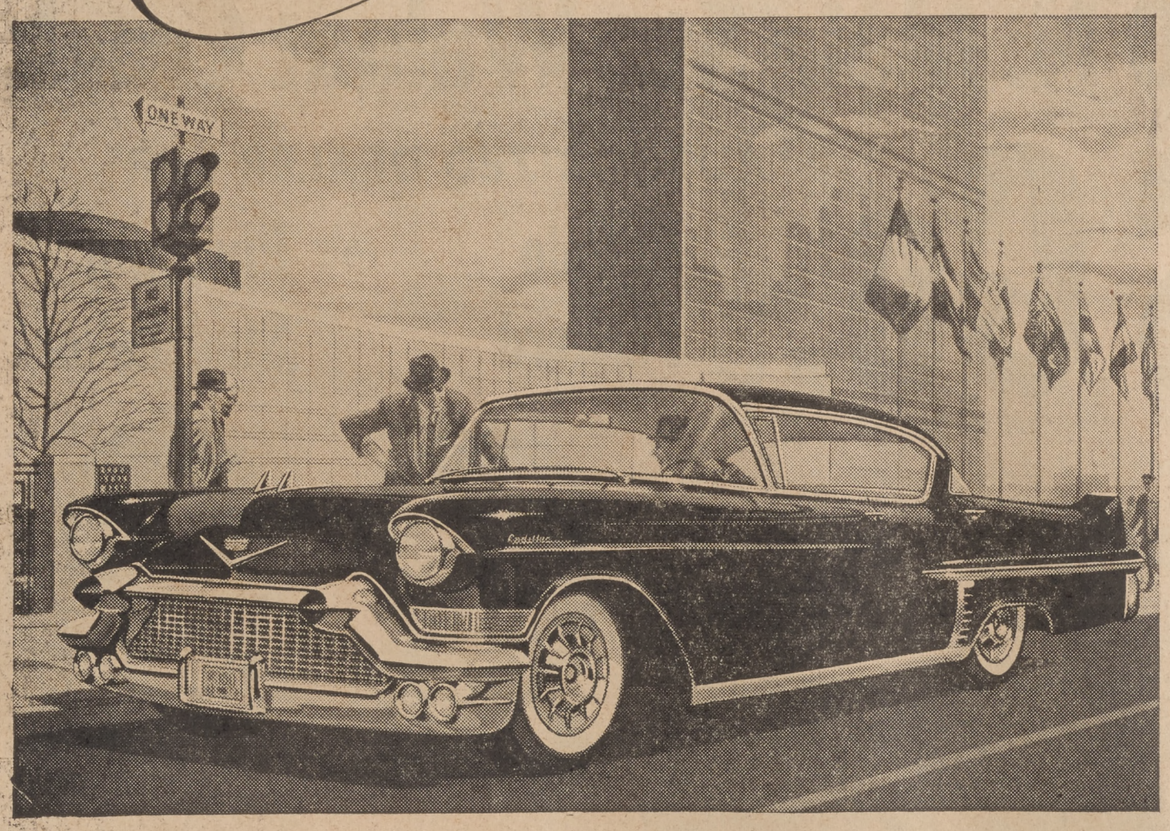
Cadillac



International Synonym for "Achievement"!

Mention the name "Cadillac" wherever you will—and in whatever part of the civilized world you might be—and you will find a common meeting-ground of understanding.

It is, in brief, a world-wide synonym for personal achievement!

And this is, we think, entirely logical. For over the years, the Cadillac car has played a vital role in the lives of so many of the leading citizens of every community where motor cars are seen.

Cadillac is, in fact, the almost predictable choice of those who choose without restriction.

* * *

This, of course, is not to say that a motorist need necessarily possess an abundance of this world's goods in order to enjoy the great and unduplicated satisfactions of Cadillac ownership.

Consider, for instance, the economy of buying a Cadillac. Several models are actually priced competitively with much smaller, lighter cars.

Consider the practical aspects of driving a Cadillac. The car is remarkably economical from a standpoint of both maintenance and operation.

And lastly, think of the wisdom of owning a Cadillac. Year after year, Cadillac returns a greater share of its owner's original investment than any other motor car in the land.

In other words, wisdom and practicality can lead you to the "car of cars" just as surely as prominence and prosperity.

We suggest that you come in soon—that you spend an hour at the wheel—and that you delay no longer in making the magic move to Cadillac.

We'll be looking for you—soon.

Therapy Center Honor Founders on Tuesday

A group of Contra Costa County citizens will be honored at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center building on Golf Club Road in Pleasant Hill.

A Founders' Night program will pay tribute to the many men and women who seven years ago "saw a great community need and did something about it."

The incorporation of the Mt. Diably Therapy Center in January 1950 for the treatment of physically handicapped persons climaxed many months of hard work.

MARY DOYLE, the Center's first therapist who worked over a crude massage table mounted on saw-horses in the rear of a Walnut Creek church where the Center had its beginning, will be one of the honored guests.

Mrs. Lawrence Wallace of Concord, president of the Center's first board of directors, and also charter board members will receive special recognition.

These include Marvin Bonds of Orinda; Neill Cornwall and Mrs. Joseph Connor of Lafayette, Jack Wendt and Henry Peshon of Walnut Creek, Derald F. Rasmussen and Mrs. Bedson Juett of Concord; Arnold Bjork and Mesdames Thomas Evans, A. Macomber and William Becker of Concord; David Holstrom and Mrs. T. O. Edwards of Danville and Mrs. Robert O'Neill of Canyon.

Invitations have een extended to Edmund S. Barnett, B. O. Wilson, Miss Ruth Fletcher and Mrs. Sally Lassagne, all members of the Center's first family.

MRS. IDA B. ZAMLOCH, who is recognized for her part in organizing the auxiliary units of the Therapy Center, will be there.

She will recall how in October 1950 a group of 250 women met at the home of Mrs. George Neldham in Orinda and formed the two original auxiliary units, the Orioles and Tanagers.

Mary Doyle auxiliary unit members will be on hand to join the celebration with their namesake.

Members of the Speakers Bureau, headed by Mrs. E. Holman of Walnut Creek, will be hosts. Assistance in serving refreshments will come from the Flamingo auxiliary unit.

THE CENTER'S present board of directors, headed by Samuel A. Bradbard, will review the Center's history with the founders as they inspect the new facilities.

Board members include Robert Bartlett, Antone Cvietusa, King Parker Jr. and Mesdames J. R. Lar Rieu, T. D. Bond, Donald Johnson, Richard Olsen and Owen Williams of Walnut Creek, Mrs. King Leonard of Pleasant Hill, George P. Eberhart and Mesdames Donald Krotz, E. H. Niederkruger and Roy Stuart of Orinda.

Stanley M. Friden of Diablo; Francie Hoey and William Sharkey of Martinez; Jack Marchant, John E. McKirahan, D. D. Nesbit, James Simonds of Lafayette, Mrs. Harold R. Parker of Moraga; Don R. Rasmussen of Alamo; Mrs. L. Robert Martin of Concord and Mrs. George Schutz.

Intimate Theater Begins Casting On New Play

Choice of the spring presentation for Intimate Theater was made Tuesday evening at Acalanes High School cafeteria.

Those under consideration were "The Autumn Garden" by Lillian Hellman and "But Stop" by William Inge.

Leon Dinkin, director, announced casting began that evening and will also be held next Tuesday. The play is being prepared for presentation in the middle of May.

Anyone interested in working on any of the phases of little theater are invited to attend.

Sun Subs Will Get Folk Dance Music

The $105 recently received by the Orinda Mothers Club as the result of the club's subscription drive of last year for The Orinda Sun will purchase a folk and square dance record library for each of the five grammar schools in Orinda.

Mrs. Charles Erickson, president, reported that Frank Isola, physical education and recreation director for the Orinda Union School District, will spend the $105 by obtaining for each school a 25-record library, a carrying case and a records catalogue.

Mrs. Erickson pointed out that another club drive for Sun subscriptions is now under way.

The net proceeds realized by the Mothers Club in the annual campaign are used to aid the local schools.

Heretofore, only one limited set of folk and square dance records has been available for all the schools. "The new record libraries will assure all five schools of adequate material for the district folk dance program," Isola says.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Depends on who you're looking at

Someone mixed metaphors and so it came out that "The modern suburban housewife leaves nothing unsaid and everything undone!"

ONE EXTREMELY BUSY Orinda matron, who keeps her family happy, takes a very active part in community affairs and hardly has a minute for herself, STARTED a letter to a friend in the Islands 'way back in October.

Between jury duty, the holidays, and everything else, the letter FINALLY got finished, in five installments over five months and last week was deposited in the post office for hasty dispatch to friend. But Oh, the frustration when our lady found the letter in her own mailbox two days later, returned for lack of postage stamp! And so it goes. (Finished all your Christmas thank-you's? GOOD FOR YOU!)

Last week a Christmas wreath complete w/red bow, still graced a door on a Rheem Blvd. home . . . and a little late for this one, but one of our fine fellows fell asleep (?) at a neighborhood New Year's party and was gently carted home, a few houses away, in the host's huge wheelbarrow. Transferred from bedlam of party to bed in his own house without so much as a wakeful wink!

When Orinda dance teacher Winnie Gilmore made 11th hr. plans last Thursday to accompany her husband and the Leonard Odenthals to Oregon for some skiing at Mt. Hood, she had to do some fast phoning between the hours of 7 and 8 a.m. to cancel morning classes. IN MOST CASES, (99%) the man of the house answered the phone, which means of course, ONLY that Mama was busy over the bacon and eggs and NOT still fast asleep as you might have surmised!?!

The Gilmores and Odenthals, who stayed at Timberline Lodge, had the fun of taking the SNOWCAT to the top of Mt. Hood where they lunched in warm sunshine against a breathtaking view . . . the foursome flew home again Sunday night.

The week in review

Getting away from it all, too, were the Thomas Klings, who spent last weekend in Carmel . . . Recent Sun Valley visitors were the Jerry Drapers . . . Tom and Merlon Howard among the localites last wknd. to Santa Barbara for the Young Republican Convention-time.

MONDAY MORNING SCENE, Sleepy Hollow-style . . . A bevy of barelegged matrons, garbed in bermudas and bulky sweaters, sweeping w/long-handled brooms the bothersome puddles that collect on the William Brobeck tennis courts and which interfere w/the ladies' Monday morning tennis sessions. Sometime's it's MORE sweeping than tennis-playing, but it's good exercise EITHER way!

Sunday morning scene . . . With the fad of YOYO fun reaching such proSPORTions locally, we weren't surprised to see several solemn-faced young fellows emerging from church, suddenly whisking out their YOYOS the minute they were down the church steps. Seemingly oblivious to all around them, they went through their yoyo paces perhaps not entirely UNAWARE that they had an audience of amused mothers and fathers whose sons have the very same yoyo-yen these days!

Papa, won't you samba with me?

"CUPID'S FLING" on Saturday night was just as much a fling for those who attended the Valentine Dance at Santa Maria's Hall . . . Papa learned to samba (and was HE surprised!) and Mama liked the long-last favorites played by Dick Dildine's combo, much in the sentimental mood.

TAKING TICKETS, Dance Chairman Tudy Little, who w/her husband, Bill, entertained early for the Bud Loughmans, Carl Dudleys, Ben Syslos, and Jim Mitchells.

Recreation, Park Facilities? EBMUD Areas are Ideal!

There has been much comment in the news sections of The Sun during the past few years about adequate recreational facilities for the residents of our area.

The Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council has done a good job of calling the future recreational needs of the area to the attention of our residents and our board of supervisors.

But aren't we possibly overlooking something?

There are tailor-made recreational facilities right under our noses, and they are within easy reach of thousands of local residents.

These beautiful recreational areas include the East Bay Municipal Utility District reservoirs, of which there are three right in, or very near, our area.

Nearly everyone has admired the beautiful vistas and the lovely acreage surrounding the huge San Pablo Reservoir, which would be a natural place for picnicing and fishing, provided the reservoir were stocked.

Then there is the Lafayette Reservoir, which is not so generally noticed because it is hidden by its own earth-fill dam, but it's right adjacent to the highway and in the center of one of our nicest areas.

The San Leandro Reservoir is not quite as close, but still readily acecssible to the area, and would provide beautiful areas for clean, wholesome family recreation.

Areas of the Pardee Dam lake, also owned by EBMUD, are being opened up for recreation and fishing after a long fight by residents and officials of Calaveras County If they can open one lake, they can certainly open another.

EBMUD officials have stated that there is much more danger of pollution in opening reservoirs which are adjacent to heavily populated areas, as ours are, but evidently the City of San Francisco has not found this to be a hazardous problem, because Lake Merced has been used as a recreational area for years, and we haven't noticed residents of that Bay city dying off like flies.

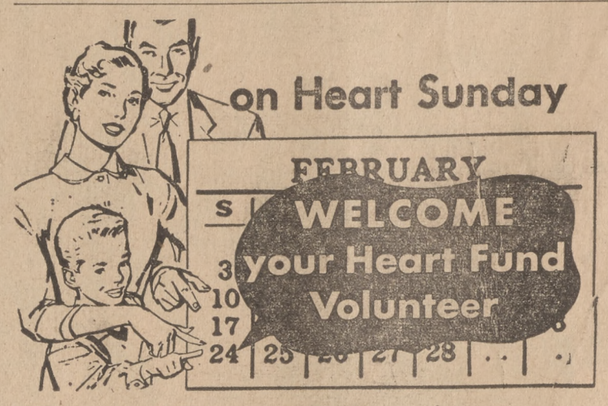
Last year the State Legislature passed a law saying that reservoirs should be opened to recreational use, but this law died in the Governor's pocket.

Certainly, the need for additional recreation facilities are badly needed in Central Contra Costa County.

The areas are here. All we need is permission to use them. The benefit to hundreds of families is obvious, and the ultimate benefit in happy family relationships, healthy exercise and character development can only be guessed at.

It is in the hands of EBMUD to provide this to our local residents.

We strongly urge it to do so.



Don't Quote Me, but . .

Nothing Half-Hearted About This Audience . . .

By DOROTHY PATTERSON

NOW THAT'S THE THIRD TIME I have gone to the front door only to find that no one at all has rung the bell.

This ringing of bells and the constant buzzing noises that have plagued me today could possibly be traceable to my experiences at the children's matinee at a local theater on Saturday.

Ours was a birthday group, and the kind manager let us in early so that we could sit together, because otherwise we would have been forced to seek extra space with strangers just as everyone else had to do.

Here's one way of making sure . . .

Before the show started, we watched breathlessly as one little fellow hurdled the rows of seats step by step until he found the most desirable place to sit.

Then he jumped up and down on the seat a couple of times to make sure.

Another had to get a drink of water because his tooth had fallen out.

A third little fellow was detained briefly by a friend who caught on to him and said, "Hi."

This caused a slight change in equilibrium, resulting in a small loss of greasy popcorn, and brought forth to the cheery greeter a spiel of uncomplimentary epithets from the victim.

Dynamic was the word for it

In our row and clear over next to the wall, we made room for a tiny couple, ages 4 and 5, who managed (during the 3-hour period) to become well watered, well bathroomed and scared plenty. Ali Baba and his 40 thieves were in a rather dynamic mood that day.

It occurred to me that the matinee is not the best of spots for babysitting purposes.

My one regret is that I do not own the candy concession in a theater.

Plenty of excitement for all

A children's matinee is truly an unforgettable thing.

Like when you see a child open his hand filled with a foam rubber-like substance that turns out to be the acoustical material they have removed from the walls!

It was three hours of tremendous excitement. Why, I shall never know ,because none of us could hear one word. But nevertehless, I booed the bad guys and yaaaayed the good guys right along with the rest.

Ooooo. My doorbell's ringing again. . . .

What They Say . . .

Sure Cure for Boredom

After a long hard work day, or at the end of a tedious, trying week, there's nothing like digging on your hands and knees in the garden, or painstakingly fitting Tab A into Slot A in building a carboard model.

At least, that's what enthusiasts of these hobbies will aver. That's their way of diverting their attentions from the daily grind and worries.

Most of us have our own special avocational interests, ranging from sports to stamp collecting.

"What's your hobby?" asked the Roving Reporter of local folk this week. They replied:

MRS. CHARLES J. GIBBS, 134 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Orinda: "I guess my main hobby is tennis now. I took it up again last year, after a lapse of 25 years. This happened because a neighbor built his own court, and now the entire neighborhood has become enthusiastic about the sport. A group of us plays every week."

MRS. M. TRANSANO, 957 Mountain View Drive, Lafayette: "I enjoy gardening, when I do it. We moved here just recently, and haven't had a chance to do much work on our garden as yet."

MRS. HENRY F. GLOY, 65 El Gavilan, Orinda: "At the moment, gardening is the big thing at our house. We've been gardeners for about 15 years. We don't belong to any garden clubs, but simply love gardens for their own sake.

MRS. J. F. VAN NORT, 3943 S. Peardale Drive, Lafayette: "We like so many things in general, but especially enjoy swimming and riding. We had a couple of horses back in Chicago, but it's too far to bring them out here."

MRS. ALVISA DUMONT, 11 Hestor Drive, Pleasant Hill: "My favorite hobby is baking. I enjoy trying new things all the time. I think I enjoy baking and cooking more than anything else."

VERN T. FUSLIER, 478 Oak Tree Drive, Walnut Creek: 'Reading I think would be my favorite hobby, although I do enjoy other things such as stamp collecting and in my youth I saved match book covers from all over the world."

MRS. L. T. NEWACRE, 3435 North Main Street, Pleasant Hill: "I really don't know what you could call my favorite hobby but I do have a great many interests, one of them is welfare work for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center."

MRS. VICTOR MANTININI, 2938 Lowell Court, Walnut Creek: "Years ago, my hobby was knitting argyle socks for boy friends, my father and brothers, but, since I've been married and now that I have a family my hobby is taking care of my husband and children."

Diablo Art Pageant Told

February 13, several members of the Diablo Art Association met to discuss the second annual Diablo Pageant of Arts, which will be held from May 23-28.

Katy Madsen, chairman of the show, and her co-chairman, Evaden Wenker, presented several new ideas for discussion, among them a poster contest. The contest, co-sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Walnut Creek will be for the advertisement of the Diablo Pageant of Arts, and the first prize poster will be printed and used throughout the Bay Area.

The original must be 14x22 inches, with a maximum of three colors used for lettering and illustration, not counting the background card color. Major lettering to state "Diablo Pageant of Arts, May 23-28." Smaller lettering to state "Art-in-action, Exhibits, Artists Ball."

Finished posters must be taken to Pillsbury Stationers on Main Street, Walnut Creek, on or before March 20. Posters will be previewed by the D.A.A. February 25, and will be on display for the following week. First prize will be $10 and there will be nine blue ribbons.

The contest is open to anyone who wishes to enter. Letters of information are being mailed to schools, and anyone wishing more information call either Mrs. Madsen, YE 4-3835 or Mrs. Wenker, VE 7-2997.

Noble Justice Named Head of Church Council

Noble Justice of Pleasant Hill was elected as president of the Central Contra Costa County Council of Churches for the 1957 term. Justice is a member of the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

Assisting Justice with the many activities of the group will be Reverand Chauncey Blossom, Orinda Community Church, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Dorn, St. Michaels and All Saints Episcopal Church of Concord, second vice president; Mrs. Francis C. Cline, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Pleasant Hill, secretary; R. G. P. Mauss, treasurer; the Reverend Irwin Askine, director; and Mrs. Leanrd Courtright, Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church, publicity chairman.

The election was held at the annual dinner meeting held at the St. Paul's Episcopal Church with the outgoing president, Reverand Roland E. Smith of the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church presiding.

Reverand A. Ray Petty, pastor of the Hillcrest Congregational Church gave the invocation, and Reverand Jack Livingstone gave the benedection. Mrs. Bruce Jones, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer," and was accompanied by Mrs. Roland Smith at the piano.

Currently the Council is offering a series of lectures on "Getting Along With Adolescents" at the Orinda Community Church. Dr. Robert C. Leslie of the Pacific School of Religion, will lecture at 3:30 p.m. for the next two Sundays.

The series will be repeated at the Hillcrest Congregational Church, 404 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill, on March 10, 17 and 24, at 3:30 p.m.

January 25, 1956, the group was formally organized as a Council of Churches. Since that time it held a successful Hymn Festival in June; maintained a chaplain at the Juvenile Hall on Arnold Industrial Highway on Sundays, and presented each child at the Hall with a Bible.

At the request of Mayor Counter, a clergyman attends the meetings of the Walnut Creek City Council.

Mrs. Marion Love of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Pleasant Hill was appointed as a member of the Pleasant Hill High School, American Field Service Citizen's Committee which is planning a student exchange with a foreign country this summer.

Top CD Men To Assemble

William W. Ward Jr., director of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense and Distaster, announced that the County will be host to CD Operational Area Coordinators from the 16 counties on Thursday.

This monthly meeting will be held at 12 noon at the El Nido Rancho, Lafayette.

California Distaster Office officials who have been invited to attend are Assistant Director John Keliher; Robert Jakoubek, Chief of Emergency Welfare Services; and E. C| Setzer, Region 3 Coordinator from Chico.

Harry H. Stoops, Region 2 Coordinator, will preside. The agenda calls for a discussion of Reception Area Planning, and a report by Director Bill Ward on recent happenings in Federal Civil Defense.

Women Architect League to Hear Of 'Child's Art'

"A Child's Creative Approach to Art" will be explained by Ernest Van Harlingen, director of Sacramento's Crocker Art Galleries, at today's luncheon meeting of the Women's Architectural League of the East Bay at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

Van Harlingen's talk will be illustrated with paintings by children from the ages of six to 14.

Recording secretary of the league this year is Mrs. John R. Harper of Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Leslie Niemi of Orinda is chairman of the Project Committee, Mrs. Olof Dahlstrand is publicity chairman, while the membership committee is led by Mrs. Albert Alexander of Lafayette.

Young Pianist to Perform in S.F.

Glenn Gould, 24-year-old piano sensation from Toronto who has skyrocketed to fame through recordings, will be guest soloist with Enrique Jorda and the San Francisco Symphony next week.

On Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and Saturday evening (Feb. 28, March 1-2) he presents two works a century and a half apart — Bach's F minor concerto and Richard Strauss' Berleske.

Jorda has programmed the spectacular Stravinsky "Petrouchka" Suite and the local premiere of Symphony in D by the rarely-heard, short-lived 19th century Spaniard, Juan Arriaga.

Friends Group Will Hold Meet

The California Friends Committee on Legislation will hold a meeting in Contra Costa County on Monday.

It will be held at 8 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, at 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek. All interested persons are invited.

The topic will be "What's Going on Inside?" and will include talks by Trevor Thomas, executive secretary of the Friends Committee on Legislation, Northern California Branch, and Cole Blease, the Sacramento representative of the FCL.

Thomas's topic is "The New Congress: Analysis and Prospects," and will include discussion of disarmament, UN technical assistance, and equal rights.

Blease will report "The Sacramento Story" and will discuss civil liberties, capital punishment, FEPC, and mental health.

The Friends Committee on Legislation is a non-partisan organization composed of Friends (Quakers) and like-minded persons interested in legislative issues.

It is affiliated with the Friends Committee on National Legislation in Washington, D. C. Its concerns cover such fields as civil liberties, capital punishment and disarmament.

Baldwin Favors New Mortgage Resolution

Sixth District Congressman John Baldwin in a newsletter this week said that he intends to support a resolution to increase the capitalization of the Federal National Mortgage Association, which repurchase FHA and VA guaranteed mortgages, if such resolution is introduced.

He said he wrote Congressman Brent Spence, chairman of the House of Representatives Banking and Currency Committee urging that immediate hearings be held to bring out such a resolution.

The committee, he added has approved a bill which authorizes an increase of $50 millions in FNMS's capitalization, and would make possible an increase of $500 millions in its total borrowing authority.

The resolution will go before the House soon, he added.

Easter Seal Group Plans Workshop

As part of the expanding rehabilitation program for the disabled, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County has been granted $3533 by the Federal Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation. Development of the Easter Seal Sheltered Workshop in Richmond is the objective.

Funds for the initial operation of the workshop are being provided by the Richmond Cerebral Palsy Society through its Moose Lodge Trust Fund, the California Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County.

Workshop trainees will receive vocational counseling guidance, and placement services as part of the rehabilitative facility.

This will be the first step to be taken by the Easter Seal Society in its plan to develop a complete Easter Seal rehabilitation center for physically handicapped adults in western Contra Costa.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

After reading Mr. Parkhill's letter in last week's Sun in rebuttal to my letter in The Sun of February 8, I come to the following conclusions:

1. That he is making a rather weak excuse for squandering the taxpayers' money on an ofice building.

2. That, instead of making two errors in my letter, only one mistake was made, and that is the building of this sheriff's ofice.

3. That he has no conception of the value of time when fighting a fire. Through my own observation last summer and fall, I noticed volunteer and regular, off duty firemen, looking for a parking place at a time when we had a two alarm fire. While they were trying to park their cars, a building could have burned to the ground.

4. That he dosen't know what he is writing about when he states, in effect, that anyone interested enough in the fire department to write a letter about it would have made an effort to get accurate information.

For his own personal education, I want to mention the fact that I talked to one of the commissioners for more than 30 minutes on the night of January 27 in regards to this matter, and also that I have read every bit of news as published in The Sun on this matter.

5. That for the past 25 years I have been the owner of rental property, both here in Lafayette and elsewhere, and that I have some conception as to what is involved in rental property and the money that can be made or lost on rentals. . .

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Mind opens the way to greater abilities and opportunities will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled, "Mind," will include the following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (128:14):

"A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2):

"Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Commuters Are Hardy; Let's Not Soften 'em Up

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

It has been a long, long time since I've swiped someone's writing for this column, but the following masterpiece by Robert Ruark in the San Francisco News is so good that I couldn't resist. Here is part of his column:

As everyone knows, by the use of a little Darwin and the theory of survival of the fittest, you can develop a new breed of animal. This generally is accomplished by picking the hardiest of a flock or litter, and crossbreeding with other types until you come up with a tailor-made beast.

The next war, heaven forbid, is going to demand special toughness in its soldiers — a man who can take hardship, torture and brainwashing in stride while expertly operating in a highly mechanized, electronic, hot-and-cold, ground-fighting war. He will need to be a sort of superman.

Commuters are 1-A

I suggest that the draft boards skip over anybody who cannot show a clear record of commuting to and from work. It is entirely likely that the future of our country lies in the hands of the commuter lines. They are toughening fighting men, whether they realize it or not.

I do not believe anybody could brainwash a commuter, and certainly they could not break him down by torture. A hardened commuter has successfully resisted attempts in both these directions for years. He is a stubborn, dedicated man — used to early hours. The daily obstacle course of "trying to get through" has made him a master of guerilla warfare.

The commuter is also a man of sterling character. Weak commuters often resort to calling up the wife and pleading extra work, necessitating a stayover in town. Whereupon he takes his red-headed secretary to dinner, is spotted at a night club, and ultimately is divorced.

Shame on the Turncoat

He then marries his red-headed secretary, who insists on moving from the country to town, as she knows too well the perils which beset a weak commuter. This breed is referred to as a "turncoat commuter," or a man who will do anything to get out of commuting.

Some men go mad under stress, but there is no danger of that happening to a veteran commuter. Any man who can contemplate the ride — repeated five times a week, twice each day, 50 weeks a year, for the rest of his life — and not go nuts could laugh at anything the Russians tried on him.

Pied Piper Plays Saturday

"The Pied Piper of Hamlin" is coming to Central Contra Costa County Saturday to delight children just as he did in the famous fairy tale.

This play is produced by the East Bay Children's Theater, Inc., an organization whose purpose is to provide honest-to-goodness live theater for the younger set.

The performances will be presented Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Stanley School in Lafayette.

TICKETS ARE still available for sixty-five cents and will be on sale at the door for those who have not already bought season tickets through their school.

Local members of the Children's Theater donating their time to work as stage crew, ushers and box office managers include Mesdames David Bullen, Thomas R. Gaines, Charles Morrill, Robert Pedder and Robert Van Gelder of Lafayette; George Krussi, Jack Lackey Jr. and H. C. Gathings of Orinda, and Frank Buck and Will Hall of Walnut Creek.

This famous children's play will be directed by Mrs. Florence Schwimley and will be performed by the drama students of Berkeley High School, with John Starr in the title role.

Sets and costumes have been made by Children's Theater members under the direction of designer Jan Mauser.

"THE EAST BAY Children's Theater, Inc., is a non profit organization," explained Mrs. Van Gelder, publicity chairman for Contra Costa County.

"Proceeds from this and other Saturday performances during the season make it possible for it to provide fine free entertainment for hundreds of children every year who might not otherwise have any."

"How old am I?"

asks Mrs. Larry Salzman
134 Santa Barbara, Daly City, California

It's a fact: A girl's best friend is her mother. Especially today, when so many mothers look and feel almost as young as their daughters.

What keeps them so youthful? Modern household appliances are a big help. They "take over" the heavy chores that once aged women long before their time.

Take Mrs. Salzman (that's daughter Geraldine on the right). This young-looking mother leaves most of her hard work to labor-saving appliances. She's 33.

Here's the beauty of it: With P. G. and E.'s bargain rates for gas and electricity you can run a houseful of appliances all day for just half the price of a bottle of hand lotion!

MARRIED AT CARMEL February 2 were Barbara Elinore Reark and William Charles Borsuk. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Reark of Hidden Valley, Lafayette. William is the son of Mrs. Joseph Borsuk of Johnstown, Pa. The wedding ceremony took place in the chapel of the Carmel Mission.

Carmel is Miss Reark's Nuptial Site

Carmel, a site which closely resembles the scene of their early days of romance, Hawaii, provided the setting for the recent wedding of Barbara Elinore Reark and William Charles Borsuk.

The new Mrs. Borsuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Reark of Hidden Valley, Lafayette, first met her husbands on the Islands, where Bill was stationed with the U.S. Navy.

BARBARA IS a graduate of Acalanes High School and attended U.C.L.A., where she was a member of Sigma Kappa.

The benedict, son of Mrs. Joseph Borsuk of Johnstown, Pensylvania, was graduated from East Contra Costa Junior College and is currently attending San Jose State College.

Monseignior O'Connell officiated at the ceremony, which took place in the Little Chapel of the Carmel Mission.

Barbara wore a ballerina length gown of Dupeoni silk, with basque waist and full skirt. Her float illusion veil was held by a pearl studded lace half hat.

CARRYING OUT the wedding's Hawaiian theme, she carried a lei of white carnations joined with white orchids.

Mrs. Robert Champoin of Walnut Creek was Barbara's lone attendant. The matron of honor wore a full-skirted dress of rose quartz taffeta, which had floated panels on the scooped neckline.

Best man was the matron of honor's husband, Robert Champion.

The bride's mother wore a simple sheath dress of light grey tissue wool and a toque of pink sheer straw massed with pink. Her pink orchid corsage matched the flowers on her hat.

Some 40 friends and relatives joined the Rearks in Carmel to help toast the bride and groom at a reception following the ceremony at "Tickle Pink," a new hotel in Carmel Highlands.

TUESDAY IS THE BIG DAY for the Crestview Women's Club Card Party at the Women's Club in Walnut Creek. Getting set for the event are, left to right, Mesdames Raymond Trybul, Norman J. Mulone, O. H. Byron, Walter Voight and Howard K. Winfield. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. George Nelson at YE 4-7324.

Fashion Show Turns Diablo Into Spring

Suddenly it was spring on Valentines Day when 850 guests attended Immaculate Guild's luncheon and fashion show "Suddenly It's Spring" at Diablo Country Club.

The Rev. Joseph E. McLaughlin Pastor of Saint Mary's Church, Walnut Creek, was on hand to welcome guests and to extend his sincere appreciation, on behalf of all his parishoners, to all who supported this annual event and contributed toward the success of the day.

GREETINGS WERE extended to members and guests by Mrs. Rainold Pimper, Guild president, who then introduced Mrs. Elmo Giulieri, chairman, who turned the program over to the commentator, Muriel Stephens.

Cupids and hearts, table and background decorations, denoted the day and foretold the coming of spring.

Strains of organ music by Mrs. Aura Edwards of Lafayette set the mood for the graceful promenade of fashions.

The latest in spring styles for both casual and cocktail dresses showed a trend toward full petticoated skirts, soft materials, soft lines, cummerbunds and aqua, navy and black and white colors.

COMFORTABLE, FEMININE, and casual sportswear with accents on gay prints and stripes had an added authentic outdoor look made possible by the use of glamorous yet practical sunglasses.

Mrs. Harvey Woodmansee promenaded the ramp in a simple shirtwaisted style frock of silky finish cotton with small black overchecks. The full ¼x¾ sleeves ending in a gracefully curved cuff, repeated the curved line of the collar and accentuated the full skirt which was cinched with a black patent leather belt.

Her hat was a Paris import of black rough straw trimmed with lacy straw braid and rhinestones.

A navy blue rayon, widely spaced print in a sheath style was most becoming on Mrs. Marie Marshall. The bodice was frosted with a white linen lace trimmed collar with matching cuffs on the three-quarter sleeves. The slim skirt was accented with grosgrain pockets at the hip. She carried a beautiful ranch mink stole.

SPONTANEOUS applause was received by Mrs. William Sheeran when she appeared as pretty and gay as a spring daffodil in a yellow print nylon chiffon with a simple bodice and three-quarter sleeves. The full skirt set off with several petticoats was pleated in small soft clusters and was cinched in by a golden taffetta cummerbund.

Other women from the Guild displaying the current spring fashions were: Mesdames Donald MacLean, Frank Sharkey, Robert McBlaine, Frank Collum, Frank Kromka, Ackley Paganini, Elmo Giulieri, B. F. McKenney, Howard J. O'Neil, Robert Mueller, Robert Geffel and Denis Reed.

Mildred Simon To Address Diablo Art Unit

Members of the Diablo Art Association will hear Mildred Rackley Simon of Lafayette speak and give a Mosaic Tile demonstration at the next general meeting Monday at 8:00 p.m. The meeting will take place at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center on Ygnacio Road.

Mrs. Simon has studied with Walter Ufer of Taos, New Mexico, Georg Grosz of New York, and at the Kumstgewerbeschule, Germany.

The gifted artist has exhibited throughout the United States at Gumps in San Francisco, Marshall Field, Museum in Chicago, in Pasadena and in several New York galleries.

Her pictures are in eight permanent collections including the Metropolitan Museum, The Museum of Modern Art, both in New York, Library of Congress, Philadelphia Art Museum and the Munson Proctor Institution.

She has a series of prints on 11 American President Liners and in the United States Information Agency.

Mrs. Simon has received numerous awards, the Audubon Society Mint Society, Springfield Art Museum and the Northwest Printmakers Society among those recognizing the excellence of her work.

She is a founding member of the National Serigraph Society New York, and of the Valley Art Center.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. A coffee gallery will be observed after the program.

A PARTY'S IN THE WIND for the Lafayette Young Republicans. It's a cocktail party to be held from 6 to 8 p.m. March 2 at the Richard Crouse home at 70 2Los Palos Drive, Lafayette. Flicker Unit Fashion Show Is March 2 at Castlewood

Fun coupled with fashions awaits friends of the Flicker Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center as final preparations are being made for the luncheon and fashion show, "With You In View."

It will be held at 12 noon, March 2, at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton.

Fashions for spring will be shown from the new Goldman's store in Walnut Creek by 15 models selected from the Therapy Center's 11 auxiliary units.

Fun will be provided by noted commentator Paul Speegle, as he described the 50 spring ensembles for casual dress, sports wear and evening attire.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. E. William Palmer, general chairman, unusual programs and decorations are being completed under the supervision of Mrs. Harry H. Magee Jr.

She will be assisted by Mesdames Jack Wenger, Stuart Wight, David Penna, Robert I. Schroder, John Hallgren Jr., Jack Turner, Norman Fletcher, Kenneth A. Alexander and R. W. Curtis.

Prizes and favors are ready to be presented to the guests by Mrs. Kenneth Ehlers and her assistants, Mesdames Richard Lieber and Ronald Barron.

Adding a bit of the masculine touch will be Flicker husbands John J. Bell and H. G. Brandenburg as they usher guests to the skillfully decorated tables. Music will be provided by John B. Anderson.

THE MODELS will be cued by Mesdames John B. Anderson and John J. Bell. They will walk through a large floral trimmed horseshoe as they approach the elevated ramp.

Among the models are Mesdames George Schutz, Mary Doyle Unit; Charles Bowers, Flamingos; Thomas Bardet, Junior Linnets; Jack Cooper, Flickers; Verner R. Anderson, Starlings; Richard Bliesner, Flickers; W. J. McGuire, Towhees.

Mesdames Jim Mathews, Hummingbirds; James Seaman, Tanagers; A. N. Warburton, Larks; W. R. Arands, Orieles; W. A. Garard, Robins and G. W. Luhr.

Michelle, aged 6, and Claudia, age 5, daughter of Flicker member Mrs. Richard Woodruff, will parade before more than 500 anticipated guests in fashions for the small fry.

Mrs. H. G. Brandenburg is in charge of ticket distribution, while Mrs. R. W. Olsen is reservation committee head. She is assisted by the Mesdames John Mozzetti, Harold E. Vincent, Earle Romak, Chist. Zoitos and Lloyd Smith.

Plan St. Pat Dance in March

The Humming Bird Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will sponsor a St. Patrick's Day Dance and mid-night snack March 16 at the Walnut Creek Elks Club. Music will be by Jack Kennedy and his Orchestra.

In charge are Mrs. Robert Cook, Co-chairmen Mesdames Joseph Grace, Mrs. Steven Szbalski and Mrs. Lloyd Lawson, tickets Mesdames Tom Bond, Adrian Mendies, and Harry Pitts, raffle prizes Mrs. John Bradley and Mrs. Frank Carter, buffet snack.

Mt. Diablo Jrs. Stage Meeting

The Ways and Means Committee of the Mt. Diablo Juniors held a meeting to plan future fund raising activities recently.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Vincent Monte, a committee member, with Mrs. A. P. Merra, committee chairman, leading the discussion.

Work is continuing on the extensive wardrobe for a doll which will be awarded in April. This doll, with several of her outfits will be displayed by several local merchants.

Club members have been at work sewing on these tiny garments at monthly sewing meetings.

The most recent sew and chat meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. M. Chamberlain with Mesdames Paul Jennings, Ben Floyd, and A. P. Merra present.

Miss Huff Wed By Ed Trotter

In St. Michael's and All Angels Episcopal Church in Concord, Miss Nancy Huff became the bride of Ed Trotter of San Jose February 2.

Mrs. Trotter who comes from Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., where she majored in dramatics, has for the past six months taught 7th grade music and boys chorus at Pleasant Hill Intermediate and 7th grade music and 8th grade chorus at Glenbrook Intermediate School in Concord.

Trotter, from Longview, Wash., is completing his senior year in Business Education at San Jose State.

The couple will reside in San Jose where Mrs. Trotter will do substitute teaching for the remainder of the year.

January 23 the faculty held a kitchen shower for Miss Huff in the homemaking department.

Mrs. Loper and Mrs. Leahy, faculty brides of November and December respectively, poured at the beautifully appointed table at which a gorgeous bride's cake in pink and white made by homemaking girls under Mrs. Ure's supervision furnished the central theme.

Crown Circle Preparing for Fashion Tea

Mrs. Hans Lauenroth will open her home at 1262 Sunset Loop, Walnut Creek, for the Wednesday meeting of Crown Circle of King's Daughters.

Mrs. Lenard Clevenger, circle president, will outline to members their participation in the March fashion tea "My Sweet Colleen' sponsored by the Northern California Branch of King's daughters.

Work for this meeting will continue the making of stuffed animals for the children at the Contra Costa Juvenile Hall in Martinez.

Party Given For Resident

A housewarming party was given recently to Mrs. Emelia Beltramo of 1470 Mt. Pisgah Road, Walnut Creek, by employees of the Lindsey Nut Company.

Area residents who attended included Clara Macchia, Celesta Isola, Katherine Gerwig, Helen Quittner, Carabel Ginn, Yolanda Baldini, Sylvia Griffin and Ruth Beltramo, all of Walnut Creek.

Theresa Schrammel and Ruth Andre of Pleasant Hill.

Orinda Parents to Meet at 'Casbah' in 'Aladdin Ball'

Diablo Country Club will be transformed into a scene from the Arabian Nights on Saturday, March 9, when mothers and fathers of Orinda schoolchildren gather for the "Aladdin Ball."

The colorful affair will be the sole fund-raising event sponsored by the Orinda Mothers' Club this year. Proceeds will be used to buy books for all the local school libraries.

"Meeting at the Casbah" will be Orinda parents and their guests, entering the club under a draped canopy which will lead, for the night, into an Arabian market place, according to Mrs. William Scatena, and Mrs. James Read, co-chairmen in charge of decorations.

The main ballroom will be arranged cabaret style with small tables surrounding the dance floor. There will be elaborate buffet tables at both ends of the room and two canopied bars will dispense potables, in addition to the main club bar.

Assisting Mesdames Scatena and Read on the decor are the Mesdames Anthony Marcus and Al Markstein.

An appetizing cold buffet will be served at the two tables in the main room, courtesy of the refreshment committee headed by Mrs. Richard Copenhagen, assisted by the Mesdames Colin Campbell, D. H. McConnell, Fenn Wilson, J. K. Dobey, Arthur Schwatka and mothers of kindergarten pupils.

Music for dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. will be provided by Dick Dildine and his 12 piece orchestra, according to Mrs. Harold Caldwell, general chairman of the "Aladdin Ball."

Special events during the evening are planned by Mrs. Dildine, entertainment chairman. Well-known terpsichore experts Doris and Bill Clifford of Orinda will give an exhibition of new dance steps, and Jasper Allara will entertain with his "one-man band."

Tickets at $3 per couple may be obtained by calling ticket chairman Mrs. R. L. Kocher, CL 4-3235, assistant chairman Mrs. Abe Doty, CL 4-3381, Mothers' Club President Mrs. Charles Erickson, DR 6-5517, or dance chairman Mrs. Caldwell, CL 4-2677, or by contacting individual room mothers.

Reservations should be made as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Caldwell, as a capacity crowd is expected.

'Amigos' Plan Annual Fete At Diablo

The Las Lomas Amigos Parents' Club of Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek will hold its third annual dance, March 23 at 9 p.m. in the Diablo Country Club.

Mrs. James McGeehon Jr., general chairman, announced that she has secured the services of Henry Gallager's Band.

Form letters and tickets are being mailed to all parents of Las Lomas students and parents of eighth grade students.

A charge of $1.50 per person will be made and the profits will be added to the scholarship fund.

In 1956, four scholarships were given to graduating seniors by Committee members working the Las Lomas Amigos.

with Mrs. McGeehon include: Mrs. Irving Kraemer, Mrs. Sherman Lea, Robert Foley and Robert Rowe, science instructor at Las Lomas High School.

"WITH YOU IN VIEW" is the theme of the fashion show and luncheon to be held March 2 by the Flicker Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. The social event will be in the Castlewood Country Club. Art-a-rama Set For March 27 By Art Group

ART-A-RAMA is coming to the Concord Shopping Center at Willow Pass Road March 27-30.

Sponsored jointly by the Concord Shopping Center, the Diablo Junior Women's Club and the Diablo Art Association, the art show will feature paintings, crafts and displays created by Contra Costa artists.

Mayor George Kreuger of Concord and his city council will do officiating honors on opening day, according to James Raser, managing director of the Center.

Assisting Raser with arrangements are Mrs. Ben Strickland of the Diablo Women's Club; Fay Stimac and Betty Plesche of the Diablo Art Association. Along with the paintings and craft exhibits will be an Art-in-Action section featuring pottery, copper-enameling, photography, jewelry making, plus portrait sketching, and oil and watercolor painting.

Prizes will be given by popular vote, with first, second and third awards, on each artist's work. There is no limit to the number of paintings submitted per artist.

The exhibit is open to all Contra Costa artists and crafstmen. Entry blanks may be obtained at the shopping center, the return deadline is March 15. Paintings may be taken to Fay Stimac, 131 Adalade, Concord, on or before March 25, or to the Shopping Center on the 25th or 26th. A sign will indicate where to leave them.

Hostesses are needed for the show, also assistance in hanging and taking in paintings in the outdoors part of the show.

Women's Club to Hear Soprano During Luncheon

"A trip Around the World by Musical Comedy" will be seen by members of the Women's Club of Walnut Creek when Mrs. E. C. Holman, program chairman, presents the Internationally celebrated artist Jan McArt, Tuesday.

The program will include arias from Finian's Rainbow, Brigadoon, Kismet, The King and I, South Pacific and others.

Jan appeared first in musical comedy, having played the leading role of Laurie in the Broadway musical Oklahoma.

AN OPPORTUNITY came to study in Europe. There she sang with Stuttgart Opera Company, Berlin Philharmonic, Stuttgart Symphony and Munich Chamber Music Society.

Jan has appeared with the San Francisco Opera Company and the San Francisco Symphony. She will again appear with the S. F. Symphony in September.

Recently she sang Musetta in LaBoheme on a nation-wide TV program and was complimented by Toscannini, just before his death, as singing the best Musetta he had ever heard.

WHILE IN New York she also sang the lead in Virgil Thompson's "Mother of Us All."

The luncheon will be served promptly at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. O. E. Boslar is president.

Mrs. Arthur Beran, Mrs. John Hamby and Mrs. E. F. Shimbor are in charge of the luncheon.

Mrs. L. P. Larsen and Mrs. A. Beers are in charge of reservations and Mrs. Mabel Daniel and her committee will arrange the decorations.

Kappa Tau Unit Stages Meeting

The Kappa Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Melsheimer of 21 Pleasant View Drive, Pleasant Hill February 5.

The guest speaker for the evening was Gerald Giles. The topic was "Beauty in Speech."

Mrs. Richard Tegan, president, made nominations for the coming election of officers. The report will be given March 5 with the election March 19. The chairman of the above committee is Mrs. Robert Richardson, with Mrs. James Tolman, Mrs. Elmer Kaprielian, Mrs. Harold Parks and Mrs. Phillip Churchill serving.

Mrs. Thelma Kutcha, general chairman, made final plans for the fashion show which was held Saturday. The finishing touches were put on the affair, and forthcoming events were planned.

A box social and barn dance, A square dance to be at the home of Mrs. James Tallman, 1291 Sunset Loop, Walnut Creek, February 23 which will be to celebrate the annual anniversaries of all the members of the sorority were discussed.

The social chairmen, Mrs. Walter Edwards, and her committee Mrs. James Tallman, Mrs. Joe Hill, Mrs. Robert Richardson, Mrs. Neal Spencer, Mrs. Willadean Fratske and Mrs. Donald Farrow discussed the forthcoming Diablo Area Council annual dance to be held March 30 at the Diablo Country Club.

The chapters will include XI Delta Tau, Xi Gamma Mu, Kappa Tau, Iota Theta and Mu Xi. The chairman for the decorations will be Mrs. William Meirs of Kappa Tau.

The coming brunch was under discussion and also the convention to be held at the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles on May 24-25-26.

The refreshments were served by the hostess. Co-hostess was Mrs. Jack Rogers.

The next meeting will be February 19 at the home of Mrs. Willadean Fratske, 1170 Saranap, Walnut Creek. The co-hostess will be Mrs. James Tallman and Mrs. William Meirs will give the program.

Larks' Hats Were Really Tops at Gala Mardi Gras

The Lafayette Larks fifth annual Mardi Gras will long be remembered as one of the most outstanding parties of the year.

The theme "Let Your Husband's Job Go to Your Head" was so well accepted that not one feminine guest arrived sans headgear.

Because every headdress was a "winner," the judges, Herman Silverman and Earle Pierce, were put on an awful spot choosing the most outstanding. Plaudits went to the two of them for their final selections.

UNDISPUTED in the prettiest category was Janet Gritzer's.

Hers was a veritable rose garden. Her large picture hat was covered with very realistic looking roses made of pastel tissues, depicting the fact that her husband is with a paper company.

Award for the funniest went to Rita Lehrman. Hers was a Wolf In Sheep's Clothing, at which she says her husband works.

THE MOST ORIGINAL hat was that of Phillipa Wallace. It was self explanatory. A black velvet gloved hand with a simply elegant diamond ring holding a life insurance policy.

The honorable mention hats were just as interesting as the winners.

Sue Masters' ticker tape hat left many a man drooling over the results of the "market." Jackie Jacobson really had a load on — a load of lumber, that is, with Sun Valley Lumber prominently displayed.

RUBY BANKS' hat with an oil refinery and gas trucks easily identified her husband's occupation. Gladys Shierry, deciding that a men's clothing store was too uninteresting, depicted her spouse's "sins," making a very interesting conversation piece.

Alvina Lindsey did the same with her hat, indicating her husband's avocations along with his vocation of walnuts. Marilynn Kinney very cleverly identified her husband with the wallpaper business, with a hat of wallpaper.

No mere word description could possibly do justice to the originality and cleverness of the many headdresses worn.

The consensus was that the Larks auxiliary of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will have to work very hard to make the next Mardi Gras as happy an occasion as this one.

Chi Omegas Set March 4 Meet

Mrs. Frank Hart, 100 Overhill Road, Orinda, has announced that that annual meeting of Chi Omega's Mu chapter corporation, of which she is president, will be held at the Berkeley chapter house, 2421 Piedmont Avenue, March 4, with an early dinner scheduled for 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Hart will preside at the business meeting at 7:30 p.m. All active members and alumnae of Mu chapter are automatically members of the corporation and eligible to vote at the annual meeting.

Another March event in which local Chi Omegas will join is the forthcoming benefit for the alumnae's local welfare project, the East Bay Association for Retarded Children, which will be a theatre party at the Berkeley Little Theatre for the Orinda Dramateurs' production of "High Ground" on March 23.

Mrs. Charles R. Hoge, program chairman, of 32 Altamount Drive, Orinda, will be in charge of ticket sales for the area, assisted by Mrs. Edward F. Ward, Mrs. Chris H. Zacher, Mrs. Robert Haaf and Mrs. David John Wilson of Lafayette; Mrs. Albert Rubey Jr., and Mrs. Robert A. DeChene of Diablo;

Mrs. Frank Hart, Mrs. Robert Gray and Mrs. Ray S. Dondero of Orinda; and Mrs. Donald J. Copeland of Walnut Creek, who will also be a model in the Bay Area Panhellenic fashion show at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco March 7.

Spring Fashions Will be Shown at Tri-Delt House

Fashions as timely and lovely as a spring garden will be presented by models as they come through the flowered trellis at the Delta Delta Delta Sorority house next Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

The fashion show and dessert bridge, sponsored by the alumnae chapter, is a money raising event to augment the sorority scholarship endowments for eligible students who otherwise would not be able to attend college.

FIFTEEN MODELS will show everything for milady from the coed to the "after forty" group.

Entertainment and background music will be provided by the active chapter, under the direction of President Vickie Carroll, Diane Pocchini, Joanne Martin and Lynn Wilson.

Fashion commentator will be Mrs. John A. (Bernice) Foley, while the following active and alumnae representatives serve as models:

MESDAMES E. James Young, Richard Sutherland, Edwin Garthwaite, Dennis A. McLeod, Paul Bradley, Robert H. Stice, John Schommer, Peter Delanoy, Sterling Simpson and Donald Ellis, and the Misses Sylvia Nelson, Greta Iverson, Missie Papke, Marty Bolton and Sue Luckenbill.

Preparations are being made for more than 200 reservations. Prizes will be drawn during intermission. On hand to welcome and introduce guests will be Mrs. Will C. Hall, Mrs. William J. Commerford and Mrs. Robert Geyer.

The committee comprises the Mesdames C. K. Keller, Frank B. West, Howard Leggett, John A. Foley, George M. Jameson, Jack F. Cathcart, Merritt E. Roberts and Garfield O. Anderson.

A special invitation has been issued to all members in the local ette and surrounding areas to make their reservations.

Humpty Dumpty 'Just for Fun' Party Coming

Humpty Dumpty Chapter of the Children's Home Society will sponsor its annual "Just For Fun" party at the Meadow Brook Golf Club March 2.

The lively get-together will be for members, new members and their husbands. Mrs. Donald Hupman is chairman. Music will be provided by Albert Tarabini.

Plans are also underway for the yearly Spring Informal to be held in May at the Elks Club in Walnut Creek.

'Starlight' Will Shine at Church Teenage Dance

"Starlight Serenade" is the name of the semi-formal dance to be given by the Orinda Community Pilgrim Fellowship members at the church tomorrow night.

All teenagers are invited to come. The cost is $1.50 per couple with tickets sold at the door.

Frank Therrian's orchestra, "The Mpsicals," will play from 8 p.m. to midnight. Refreshments will be sold after 9 o'clock.

The committeemen working on the dance are: General chairman, John Boyd, Decorations, Sandy Brown and Sylvia Bolman; Publicity, Deborah Smith; and Refreshments, Nancy Mott.

Women's Clubs To Hear Talk On Narcotics

The Alamo Women's Club will sponsor a talk by a Federal Bureau of Narcotics agent on March 12 at the clubhouse on Danville Highway, Alamo.

Hosts will be members of the Alamo Club and the Walnut Creek Women's Club.

Narcotics chairman of the club is Mrs. Harry Brown of Austin Lane, Alamo. The public is invited to the meeting. There is no admission charge.

Humpty Dumpty Plans Gala Fete

Humpty Dumpty Chapter of the Children's Home Society will sponsor a lively party at the Meadow Brook Golf Club March 2 for members only.

It's the annual "Just for Fun" get together for members and new members and their spouses. Mrs. Donald Hupman is chairman and music by Albert Tarabini.

Junior Colleges Have 6187 Pupils

A total of 6187 full and part-time students are now registered at East and West Contra Costa Junior Colleges, making this spring semester enrollment the heaviest to date, say district officials.

West Contra Costa Junior College of San Pablo registered 1215 full-time and 1278 part-time students.

East Contra Costa Junior College of Concord reported 1200 full-time and twice as many, 2494 part-time students.

For the Junior College District as a whole, the total number of full-time students — 2,415 — was up 40 over last spring at the same time.

Of these, 35 per cent were women students at both colleges. This ratio is close to that obtained at University of California this spring where 32 per cent of the students are women and 68 per cent, men.

Part-time students accounted for 60 per cent of all registrations in the junior college district.

They totalled 3772 of the 6187 students in all categories.

At East Contra Costa Junior College there was a ratio of 41 per cent women and 59 per cent men part-time students. At West Contra Costa Junior College only 24 percent of the part-time students were women and 76 per cent, men.

Registration for the day programs at both colleges is closed now.

Designers to Display Wares At Hospital Fashion Show

A brilliant collection of top-flight designers' fashions from four of the East Bay's leading style centers, The Gray Shop, Joseph Magnin, Alfred Nipkow and Company and Lowell Trautman, will be shown during the festive Easter Fair Fashion Luncheon at Berkeley's Hotel Claremont March 8.

The annual show, sponsored by the Branches of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, will be staged in the Garden, Salem and L'Horizon Rooms of the hotel.

SPRING BLOSSOMS will inspire the always beautiful decor, with Mrs. George Thompson of Cypress Branch heading the decorating committee.

Masses of blooms will decorate walls and archways, while centerpieces for the many tables will be bouquets of spring flowers. White satin ribbons adorned with delicate blossoms will add a glamorous touch as they double for tie ropes along the runways.

Gordon Heche's orchestra will provide background music, while Katherine Kerry, radio and television personality, and Nerice Fugate, director of the House of Charm, will assume the roles of commentators.

ALFRED NIPKOW, himself, is designing most of the clothes to be featured from his Walnut Creek store. Other members of his staff are also creating smart casuals and sports wear for the hospital benefit.

According to Mrs. John O. Rosefield of Redwood Branch, ticket chairman, and Mesdames Mervin Cunningham and George Felts of Pepper Branch, table arrangements chairmen, there are a few reservations open for the 12:30 p.m. affair.

Reservations may be made through Mrs. Rosefield, OL 2-5793.

Among those selected to model for Alfred Nipkow & Co. are Mesdames Donald Wells of Cedar Jr. Branch, James B. Gallinatti of Rowan Branch, Harold J. Havre Jr. of Heather Branch, E. Walton Kirk and Alden Thorndike Mackay of Walnut, and James P. Read of Lombardy.

MODELING for Lowell Trautman are Mesdames James C. McGeehon and Jack Turman of Walnut Branch, Emerson Wiser of Alder, Gordon E. French of Cedar Jr., and Hugh J. Lenahan of Coral.

More on Financing, And Some Bypass News

By BILL HAYWARD

UP TO THE MINUTE INFORMATION on GI financing . . . According to the latest news release from Washington the House Veterans' Affairs Committee will likely endorse a 5 per cent interest rate for G.I. home loans after the introduction of legislation on the Washington level.

Another part of this legislation will authorize a $500 million direct lending program into new areas commonly referred to as remote. This probably means suburban districts such as the area in which we live in Contra Costa County.

Incidentally . . . since FHA raised the interest rate for home loans we are experiencing a definite surge of business activity on that level. Also noticeable in our daily mail are reminders from mortgage lenders that they are still in the business of loaning money. This is a new twist, the borrower used to hunt for the lender.

MAIN STREET, WALNUT CREEK . . .

March 15 is the date planned for the opening of "Slim" Gensoul's Diablo Drug, Novelty, Notion and Ceramic shop at the corner of Main and Ygnacio in the El Rey Theater building. Proprietor "Ade" is moving from his present location opposite Thompson Electric Company to this new larger quarters, with a planned expansion program in growing with Walnut Creek.

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY . . .

According to Wayne Bailey, executive secretary of Contra Costa Real Estate Board, a noticeable increase in construction activities and "new" properties available for sale is in evidence during the past three weeks. New subdivision developments are on the drawing boards in connection with Creekside and two new smaller subdivisions in Walnut Heights.

WALNUT CREEK BY-PASS . . .

A few of the final negotiations are clearing through the courts under condemnation suits which will remove the last few parcels in the path of the Walnut Creek By-Pass during the next 90 days. If you will drive out Buena Vista Avenue near the intersection of Parkside Drive you will notice the path of the highway very much in evidence as it cuts across the foothills in a North to South direction.

An inspection of Newell Avenue near Circle Drive will also show the South road location in the direction of Danville. This house moving business is becoming quite an operation and will continue to grow as some 300 homes still must be moved from the path of the highway from the freeway and access roads in the direction of Danville. It has come to our attention that excellent purchases have been made by interested parties who have offered bids to the State of California on these homes that are up for sale.

A home that originally cost $17,500 to build recently sold by sealed bid for $3500. The successful bidder plans to move this house onto another lot, repaint and refinish the house both inside and outside, will offer the property for sale at a tidy profit. Another example cites the sale of a commercial building originally built at a cost of $12,000, selling under sealed bid for $950.

I actually believe the bidder was surprised when he was awarded the building at this unusually low figure. I might also add that there are plenty of vacant lots for sale. Some of the prices may even surprise you.

Parent-Child 'Lab' Is Junior College Course

The parent-child "laboratory" of East Contra Costa Junior College, now entering the second semester of the current school year, has room for a few more young children, especially little girls aged two to six years, according to the instructor, Miss Marjorie R. Armstrong.

The laboratory is part of the family life education program. It includes a daytime nursery school where youngsters are studied by parents on a rotating basis, under the supervision of the instructor and a Thursday night class for the parents only, also taught by Miss Armstrong. There is no tuition fee.

Children spend two hours twice a week in the nursery lab, on Tuesdays and Thursdays or Wednesdays and Fridays. The youngest children attend from 9 to 11 a.m. and those who will be going into kindergarten in September, from 1 to 3 in the afternoon.

Among the skills they learn are how to get along with other children and also with adults other than their parents.

A parent of each child attends one daytime lab session a week to observe what should and what should not be expected of children of pre-school age.

Stamp Drive Is Crestview Junior Project

The Crest View Junior Woman's Club of Pleasant Hill has undertaken a new task, one of collecting canceled stamps, foreign or domestic, and stamp albums, used or new, for veteran rehabilitation throughout the state.

Club chairman, Mrs. Edward LeSage, asks anyone with such items to either drop them in the mail to her or give her a call. Stamps of all types except the common ones, twos, threes and air mails are needed.

You may contact Mrs. LeSage by writing to 161 Vivian Drive, Pleasant Hill or by calling her at MU 2-8994.

State President Will Address AAUW Meeting

Members of all six branches of the American Association of University Women in Contra Costa County have been asked to attend a general meeting in Orinda Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Glorietta School auditorium.

Mrs. Patterson Goodrich of Los Angeles, State president of the organization, will speak on "Trends in Higher Education in California."

She has been chairman of the AAUW State Committee on education for two years previous to her election as president, and is interested in promoting teacher recruitment and special consideration for gifted children.

Mrs. Martin White, Orinda branch education chairman, has planned the visit of Mrs. Goodrich, who will remain in the Bay area for the AAUW workshop at San Carlos March 1 and 2.

...President Mrs. Kenneth Ruppenthal and other officers from Orinda will also attend the regional meetings that weekend, which will feature round-table discussions on study-fields and branch administration.

Hostesses for Wednesday's meeting will be Mesdames P. D. Bush, H. J. Cunningham, C. Z. Maehler, R. H. Nedderson and J. A. Pennell.

Section meetings next week include a book review of "The Nun's Story" by Kathryn Hulme, to be given by Mrs. J. C. Roberts, 10 a.m. Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. F. A. Leibold, and a bridge group at 12:30 p.m. the same day.

DVAL Hardwood Action Resumes Tonight

Dons Underdogs Against Diablo; Rams Face Pitt

A full round of DVAL action will take place on league courts tonight, following the respites given the prep basketballers since last Friday.

Pittsburg rapped Diablo with a convincing 70-34 win Friday night and consequently moved into undisputed possession of the league's top rung.

ONLY UPSETS can topple the powerful Pirates from their perch, and the chances of these taking place seem mighty slim.

The Devils had the best chance to rap the Pirates, and blew it—to put it politely.

Tonight's play finds the Acalanes Dons attempting to shake out the kinks, having also drawn a bye last Friday. Shake them they'd better, as they face their arch-rivals, the Diablo Devils on the Lafayette court.

The Devils are on the rebound from their humiliation at the hands of Pitt, and will be out to avenge themselves.

The Dons are a good bet in the Bee game but a long shot in the Varsity.

LAS LOMAS, which draws a bye tonight, must be content to send their Junior Varsity to Orinda to play the tough Miramonte Matadors.

The Knights have been unpredictable this season, rising to the heights on occasion and falling down on the job on others.

Things aren't too bright over Pleasant Hill way, as the Rams must face the Pitt whirlwind following their heartbreaking loss to Pacifica.

Best chance for the locals is in the Bee game, but don't bet too much here as even the Little Pirates are smelling pennant.

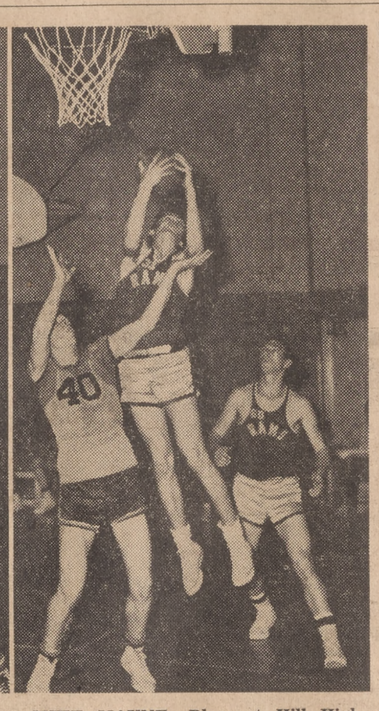
IN ANOTHER league game Pacifica takes on Antioch on the Panthers' court. Tab Antioch to take a pair.

All games tonight begin at 7:30 p.m.

Next Tuesday Acalanes hosts Pleasant Hill, Miramonte closes its successful season against Diablo at Concord, Las Lomas travels to Pacifica, Pittsburg plays Antioch at home and Diablo gets the bye.

These contests will begin at 3:30 p.m.

TOMMY LARSCHEID goes up for the layup as Pacifica Bees tighten their defense on the tricky Pleasant Hill guard. The Bees won 43-42 in a thriller at home and the varsity dropped a heartbreaker in overtime to Pacifica. —Sun photos by Don Bradley



MIKE MAYNE, Pleasant Hill High, snags a rebound off the boards while Pacifica hoopsters crowd in during tense action in the varsity tilt played at Pleasant Hill High last Friday.

Pitt Resting Atop DVAL Roosts

With just three games to go in Diablo Valley Athletic League basketball competition, the perennial champs from Pittsburg High rest atop the roosts in both the Varsity and Bee divisions.

No games were scheduled Tuesday night, but the squads swing back into action tonight.

Standings in the varsity loop are as follows:

	W	L	PS	PA
Pittsburg	8	1	616	361
Mt. Diablo	8	2	493	455
Antioch	5	4	460	461
Acalanes	4	5	400	475
Pleasant Hill	3	6	404	459
Las Lomas	3	7	445	493
Pacifica	2	8	453	567

Bee standings are:

	W	L
Pittsburg	8	1
Antioch	7	2
Acalanes	5	4
Las Lomas	5	5
Pleasant Hill	3	6
Pacifica	3	7
Mt. Diablo	2	8

Matadors Clear Bench in Routing Wolves, 53-28

All the players on the Miramonte High hardwood roster got a chance to see action before the home crowd last Thursday as the Matadors swamped the San Ramon Junior Varsity, 53-28.

Things started out as if the Wolves were going to make a game of it. They stayed close and at the end of the first yuarter were trailing 14-11.

BUT WITH the beginning of the second frame the Matadors began to warm to the task and score at will. When the game began to turn onto a rout, the reserves were rushed in.

Miramonte second stringers played half of the second and third quarters and the entire fourth stanza, but the Wolves still couldn't stop the onslaught.

BY HALFTIME the score stood at 27-13, with San Ramon hopes fading fast. By the end of the third quarter, with the count 37-17, those hopes had flown the court.

Guard Dixon Farmer was top scorer for Miramonte with 14 (3 fg—8 ft), while center John Coffey was close behind with 11 (4 fg—3 ft).

Standouts for their all-around play for the reserves, who gave a good account of themselves, were guards Doug Federighi and Steve Cornwell.

Acalanes H.S. Graduates Rank First at Stanford

Acalanes High School graduates rank first in a national comparison of academic grade point averages at Stanford University.

A report by the Stanford Registrar covering student work from 1953 to 1956 ranks Acalanes first in a comparison with the only other 14 high schools (all public) in the country which have 30 or more graduates at Stanford.

Commenting on the showing made by Acalanes graduates at "The Farm," Acalanes Principal Stanley Walgren observed:

"The consistent high average of Acalanes students at Stanford and similar reports of academic competence from the University of California and other colleges throughout the nation are gratifying and are excellent commendation of the educational job being done by both the faculty and the students at Acalanes."

In a comparison with the only 34 public and private high schools in the United States with 20 or more students attending Stanford, Acalanes graduates ranked second in academic grade point averages.

Twenty-six of these 34 schools with 20 or more students at Stanford are public schools, four are private schools and four are out-of -state.

Taxpayers Cite 'Uncoordinated' County Programs

A major problem is arising from the large number of "uncoordinated" programs being developed by departments within the Contra Costa County governments, according to a County Taxpayers Association newsletter released recently.

The newsletter, sigend by Association President Bruce Howard, stated that, "The Board of Supervisors has been forced to decide upon the desirability of new programs on the basis of expediency and in a perpetual state of crisis."

It continued that the board should ". . . give immediate attention to developing a long range administrative plan so that those new programs which are most needed and most desirable can be established on a long range basis at the least possible cost to the taxpayer."

No specific program or programs were mentioned. However, it said that the new programs now under consideration are "very expensive."

They are "prepared and proposed by department heads in an uncoordinated fashion. . . ."

The newsletter added, "The CCCTA recognizes that the Board of Supervisors and the county administration are aware of this weakness in the county's operation . . .

"The long range administrative planning of new programs which the county can provide and according to which new services can be established with the minimum effect upon the taxpayer has not yet been accomplished."

'Peek at Easter' Involves Combined Efforts of Many

Charming models and attractive clothing make a good starting point for organizing an exciting fashion show, but a wide variety of talents, efforts and equipment olay an important part in making the event an outstanding success, according to Mrs. Douglas Kilbourn, Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School's fund-raising chairman.

The nursery school's principal social event of the current year is its "Peek at Easter" fashion show and tea, to take place next Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at Orchard Nursery in Lafayette.

To illustrate, Mrs. Kilbourn points out that Wednesday evening, while the more than two dozen mothers and children who will model in the show are getting their beauty sleep, a group of fathers, led by Fathers' Representative George Jonas, will busy themselves collecting chairs and tables and arranging them among the flowering shrubs and blossoming trees in the Orchard Nursery conservatory and patio, where the following day's festivities will be centered.

MEANWHILE, cakes baked by 30 mothers of the nursery school membereship will be frosted and decorated under the supervision of Jeanne Christie, who is soon to introduce her own Children's Party Service in Lafayette.

Mrs. Neil Sadler, ticket sales chairman, notes that there is scarcely a family in the entire nursery school that isn't occupied currently with selling fashion show tickets.

Since the $1.25 donation per ticket will be used to establish improved quarters for the school and to acquire new play equipment for the children, there is much enthusiasm in the sales department.

THERE IS LIVELY interest, too, among those contributing clothing or special services to this preview of Easter.

Lad 'n Lass Toggery will be showing a bright array of handpicked fashions for the younger generation, while Hill 'n Dale will inspire their mothers, aunts and cousins with the fascinating fabrics and designs that are appearing in the newest informal creations for women.

Ruth Andersen, NBC fashion news commentator, is preparing the interpretations of the details of trends and innovations to be described by her during the modeling.

PLANNING A delicate musical background is organist Mrs. Fred Edwards, who will help create the moods suggested by the frocks and flowers.

The Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School as a whole is sparing no effort in making this a most stimulating fashion show.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the membership.

Mrs. Schneider Gets Promotion

Promotion of Mrs. Elaine Schneider to the position of Orinda-Lafayette advertising manager for The Sun was announced this week by Wayne Laine, advertising manager of The Sun newspapers. "Mrs. Schneider has been doing an outstanding job as our advertising representative in the Orinda-Lafayette area," Laine said. "This new position has just been created." In her new duties, Mrs. Schneider will be directly responsible to Laine.

Mrs. Schneider has been with The Sun newspapers for over five years. She started in January, 1952, as a classified advertising salesperson. Later she was advanced to classified advertising manager.

Subsequently she was transferred to the display advertising department. For the past few years she has been The Sun's advertising representative in the Orinda-Lafayette area.

Has Air Traffic Job

William E. Bliss, 65 Palana Court, is new assistant air traffic controller at the Oakland Center.

Bliss recently completed an eight-week course in air traffic control at the Civil Aeronautics Association Aeronautical Center in Oaklahoma City, Oaklahoma.

Mrs. Patch Wins 'Odd Nine' Golf

"Odd Nine" women's golf competition at the Orinda Country Club was won by Mrs. P. E. Patch last Friday.

Mrs. Patch's low score of 33½ was followed closely by the 34 registered by Mrs. L, N, Mitchell and Mrs. A. B. Tanner's 35 in Class A play.

Class B honors went to Mrs. F. J. Federighi. In the second place was Mrs. E. C. Bergen, and Mrs. D. A. Hamlin and Mrs. P. L. Rasmussen tied for third.

Mrs. J. N. Walker was the winner in Class C, trailed by Mrs. N. N. Gay and Mrs. W. E. Kilgo.

Rams Choke in Overtime; Drop Game to Pacifica

It was just the breaks, the Pleasant Hill basketballers were mumbling to themselves as they walked off their home court last Friday night aftr dropping a 51-43 heartbreaker to Pacifica in an overtime.

The Rams started out well enough as they stood an 11-8 lead at the end of the first quarter. They seemed to be on their way for real as the second period closed, leaving the floor with a 27-20 advantage.

But the roof fell in after the intermission as the Spartans poured through 13 points to the home club's 6.

THAT TIED things up with just eight minutes left to play, and it was touch and go from there.

With just 20 seconds on the clock, victory was virtually in the bag for Pleasant Hill. Then fate, in the person of Spartan forward George Trotter.

Spartan was the word for him as he stole the ball from the confident Rams and raced down the court unguarded to drop in a layin.

That tied the count, and the buzzer went off.

SOMETHING HAPPENED to the Rams in the overtime. They froze and couldn't seem to find the basket.

While Pacifica center Larry Kent went on a spree and dropped through seven points, the Rams were left sputtering and scoreless. Kent's points, along with a teammate's charity toss, were more than enough to power through the win.

Kent was high scorer for the game with 25 (7 fg—11 ft) and grabbed 20 of Pacifica's 60 rebounds.

Tops in the scoring column for the Rams was center Mike Mayne, who had 16 (7 fg—2 ft).

Lady luck rode with the Ram Bees in the preliminary, however, and the lightweights eked out a 43-42 decision.

GOP Assembly Elects Bolce 1957 President

William J. Bolce Jr. of Lafayette has been elected president of the Central Contra Costa Republican Assembly, to serve for the year 1957.

Other new officers of the group are Joan Chandler, Walnut Creek, vice-president; Kenneth Chandler, Walnut Creek, second vice-president; Shirley Cheadle, Walnut Creek, secretary; Mary Dorr, Orinda, assistant secretary, and Sherwood S. Knight, Walnut Creek, treasurer.

Bolce was installed in office following his election by outgoing Vice-President John Nejedly, Walnut Creek city attorney, in the absence of retiring President Gertrude Walker, who is vacationing in Mexico.

The new president announced that the Assembly will concentrate on regional governmental problems this year, stressing non-paritsan issues.

The California Republican Assembly is the only Republican organization which is authorized by charter to take part in nonpartisan politics, Bolce explained.

To allow Asembly members (and prospective members) to become better acquainted, a dinner party is slated as the group's first event of 1957, scheduled for mid-March.

Committee chairmen for all 1957 Assembly projects will be announced later, Bolce said.

Osmundsen Cites Contractors' Fix

Lack of Mortgage Funds for Veterans Housing brougnt comment at the dinner meeting of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County at the El Nido Restaurant, Lafayette, recently.

"Home building, the second largest industry in the United States is, for all practical purposes, faced with a complete shutdown unless Congress acts immediately to authorize the increase in the funds of the Federal National Mortgage Association by $250,000,000," President John Osmundsen stated.

"An increase of $250,000,000 in the F.N.M.A. Authorization will increase the F.N.M.A. Operation two and one-half billion dollars, which is the minimum needed to stabililze the Industry," Osmundsen said.

The members were urged by the Board of Directors to advise their Congressman of the state in which the industry finds itself, and the necessity for quick action by Congress to alleviate the situation.

Rams Pull 56-44 Upset Over Antioch

The Las Lomas High Knights pulled one out of the hat Friday night to outshoot and spill the visiting Antioch Panthers, 56-44.

Paced by guard Joe Sibley's 24 points (10 fg—4 ft), the Knights set a fast pace to ramble to a 14-8 first quarter lead. From there on they never fell behind and upset the favored Panthers in their most impressive league game to date.

Third place Anitoch dropped way behind, 28-19, at halftime. But the Panthers developed a spark of life in third canto and outscored the locals, 14-10.

THE SPARK was quickly extinguished, along with Antioch's hopes, in the final quarter as they powered through 18 counts to their opponents' 11.

Las Lomas coupled good accuracy from the floor (hitting 19 times in 39 tries) and fine rebounding for the win, their third in league play this season.

Antioch hit on a meager 16 out of 59 shots from the floor.

IN FREE THROWS it was the Knights again, 16-12.

Antioch forward Rally Rounsoville topped his mates with 16 (5 fg—6 ft). Las Lomas forward Frank Cox's 10 aided the local cause.

In the opener, Anitoch downed the Las Lomas Bees, 30-26.

CCC Progress Group Elects Locals to Board

Two long-time residents of Contra Costa County were elected to the Board of Directors of the Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County at the annual membership meeting of the Association held recently, it was announced by President George Weise.

Ned DeLaveaga, Orinda businessman, whose grandfather was an early California settler, and George Lavey, Lafayette businessman and resident for 14 years, were elected for a two-year term, Weise revealed.

DeLAVEAGA, whose father built the Orinda Country Club and named many of the streets in the Orinda area, is past president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Orinda Rotary Club.

Lavey is a member of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, Lafayette Rotary Club, Elks Club, Masonic Lodge 723 and Aahmes Shrine.

"The addition of these men to the Board of Directors of the association will continue the broad representation of the directorship and aid in the deliberations of those matters considered by the Association in its efforts to add to the overall economic well being of Contra Costa County's residents," Weise stated.

REELECTED to the Board of Directors of the Association for a two-year term were "Buck" Johnson, Walnut Creek; Frederick C. Kracke, Lafayette; Kermit Lincoln, Lafayette; and Jack Marchant, Lafayette.

Serving with the newly elected directors during 1957 are Thomas Carroll, Orinda; Edward M. Larmer, Walnut Creek; Les Mullen, Martinez; John Osmundsen, Walnut Creek; Fred Wagner, Lafayette and George Weise, Martinez.

The Association, formed in 1955, has 225 members at present.

Firms, individuals and family memberships are open at the present time, Weise announced. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Robert MacHugh, AT 3-8112, he said.

Signs of Spring Abound Over Prep Sports Scene

By ERWIN MATTSON

It's really getting near the old springtime. Signs of it are everywhere.

Some o fthe sure signs are the sight of track men going through their preliminary paces, swimmers taking to the water, baseball players hitting and throwing, tennis racquets swishing through the air, and golfers replacing the divots after rusty practice swings.

A new sport is on the scene for Acalanes and Las Lomas. It's soccer, which is more popular abroad than on the local sports scene.

IT SEEMS that Las Lomas issued a challenge and the match is on. Both schools have foreign students familiar with the game — it will be interesting to see how well the local preps take to the "boot 'em" sport.

Turnouts in baseball in the three local high schools engaging in the national pastime vary considerably.

Pleasant Hill has always had a keen interest in the diamond game, and this year is no exception. Some 90 candidates showed up for practice there.

Las Lomas has about 75 aspirants. Interest drooped at Acalanes, where only about 50 reported for tryouts.

MIRAMONTE will play a Junior Varsity schedule, but with only frosh and sops playing, will be building for '57 when they enter varsity competition.

The Matadors diamond facilities will be on the primitive side, as the grass didn't get planted last fall and the backstops are still in the making.

The big rush in spring sports will come on March 4. That's when the 1956-57 basketball season comes to a close. With the final games to be played March 1, all hands will turn to spring sports the following Monday.

THE BIG WINDUP of the prep hoop season comes with the Tournament of Champions, to be held in the University of California gym March 7, 8 and 9.

One of the big questions being pondered now is which section of the Diablo Valley Athletic League will get the call. If the league picks its representative, that team will get the call. But if the DVAL takes no official action, a tournament committee will do the picking.

My guess is that the league won't take action and that the team will be selected by the committee. Either way it will be a real subject for debate.

ALBANY HAS already won the small league section, and it looks like Pittsburg among the local schools.

If Albany gets the bid, rest assured the Pittsburg Post-Dispatch will have plenty to say. Same goes for the Albany papers if the Cougars lose out.

It would be nice if a playoff could be run, with the money going to some worthy cause, such as the March of Dimes. But you can bet your last dime that won't happen.

The league fathers frown on any such action, and are hardly likely to stray from the straight and narrow path here.

'Sunmobile' at GM Show

The amazing Sunmobile — a miniature auto which actually runs on sunshine — was featured in "Previews of Progress," world famous General Motors science show given at Acalanes High School last week.

The non-commercial stage show, which told the story of industrial progress in a free economy, was designed to stimulate student interest in careers in science and engineering.

The Sunmobile depends on eight photo-voltais cells located on its hood for its operation. These cells convert light energy into electrical energy.

Each cell produces about one-half volt of direct current electricity when light falls upon it. They are connected to a small electric motor mounted inside the car which moves the auto by a chain drive.

In the Previews show, the demonstrator used a 150 watt lamp to duplicate the sun's rays. As the light hit the cells, the 15-inch yellow and black Sunmobile moved smoothly across a table.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice declares however, that there are no plans to produce a sun-powered car in the forseeable future.

"The Sunmobile symbolizes, for Previews audiences, the inquiring mind of all scientists and hints at the tremendous secrets of power and energy that wait to be unlocked by highly-trained technicions in the world of tomorrow," he says.

The Sunmobile, which was first displayed at the GM Powerama in the fall of 1955, was one of many scientific sequences presented at the show.
